STATE MEETING TO OPEN HERE NEXT SATURDAY

Attendance Expected To Exceed Past Records of Ohio Organization

PROGRAM COMPLETE

Notables of Order Included in List of Participants; Final Events Monday

The state convention of the Knights of Columbus, opening here Saturday night and continuing through Sunday and Monday, will be the largest in the history of the organization in Ohio William E. Haas, state deputy, of Delaware, declared today in a telephone conversation with L. A. Axe district deputy and general chairman on convention arrangements.

Incoming reservations for hotel accommodations indicate that the attendance will far surpass expectations Axe said. More than 500 reservations had been made early today. Hotel Harding, which will be convention headquarters, has been completely filled, while rooms are being taken rapidly at Hotel Marion. More than 500 persons will attend the convention.

Delegates and their wives are expected to begin arriving in the city Saturday afternoon. No formal program has been arranged for Saturday night. State officers will open their offices on the mezzanine floor of the Harding.

All To Attend Mass

All local members and candidates for the organization and delegates will attend the 7 o'clock mass at St. Mary's Catholic Church in a body Sunday morning. At 10 o'clock Marion Council, No. 671, will confer the first degree on a class of 35 candidates, these candidates coming from Marion and adjacent territory. The initiation will be held at the Elks' Temple, Grand Theater Building.

Exemplification of the second degree, also by Marion Council, will take place at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon to be followed immediately by the third degree under the direction of State Deputy Haas.

The Sunday night banquet and all convention sessions are to be held in the Star Auditorium. The banquet will be held at 6:30 o'clock with some of the foremost members of the Ohio organization present.

To List of Speakers

Among the speakers announced today by the committee will be Rev. Fr. John Hanahan, chaplain of the local council, Rt. Rev. T. C. O'Reilly, bishop of ...

PLEADS GUILTY TO BAD CHECK CHARGE

Akron Man Arrested Here Bound Over to Grand Jury Under $1,000 Bond

"Sure I gave the forged checks," was the ready manner in which W. V. Stephenson, alias Harry Smith, alias Harry Hunter, of Akron, arrested last week after he had passed several checks in the city, entered a plea of guilty to a charge of issuing a forged check, when arraigned before Judge William R. Martin in Municipal Court this morning. He was held to the grand jury under $1,000 bond, which he failed to furnish. He was taken to the county jail.

Stephenson was arrested last week after he had passed a check for $18.75 at the Frank Wilhelm Tire Store on N. Main st. He also gave forged checks at the Mapes Rubber Store on S. Main st and the Lusch filling station on N. Main st.

That Stephenson had been working in this city off and on for some time is the belief of Chief of Police Thompson, who said a forged check given by him in March was brought to police headquarters by the victim yesterday. The check bore the same signature in the same handwriting as the checks floated by Stephenson last week.

Mad Air Passenger Rains Hammer Blows on Pilot

PONTIAC, Mich., May 15—Clarence Frechette, 21, of Pontiac, was under technical arrest and held for mental observation at a hospital here today following his maniacal attack in mid-air on Harry Anderson, 28 year-old aviator, causing him to crash from a height of 2,000 feet.

Anderson and his mad passenger were dragged from the wreckage of the plane and rushed to the City Hospital by spectators who watched the weird nose dive to earth. The condition of both men was reported as grave.

Frechette represented himself to Anderson as an "exhibition pilot and parachute tester." He asked Anderson to take him up. When they had attained a height of 2,000 feet, Frechette produced a hammer and swung repeated blows at the pilot.

48-Hour Service From Coast to Coast By Rail and Air Soon Will Become Reality

Organization To Be Capitalized at $5,000,000 with Pennsylvania and Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroads Linked with Air Transport Companies

New York, May 15—Forty-eight hour service from coast to coast for the traveling public of the United States will soon be a reality. Announcement is imminent, it became known today, of the organization of a transcontinental air and railroad system, capitalized at $5,000,000 which will undertake to cut down the time it now takes to cross the country.

Linked in the new organization are the Pennsylvania Railroad, the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad, the National Air Transport and the Boeing and Western Air Transport Companies. The object of the company will be to provide a regular 48 to 52 hour passenger service from New York to San Francisco. The regular schedule from New York to Los Angeles will require 56 hours. Later the service is to be extended to San Francisco.

Passengers will be carried on trains at night and on planes in the day time.

Keys Heads Company

The new transportation organization will be headed by C. M. Keys, president of the Curtiss Aeroplane and Motor Co. Col. Charles A. Lindbergh was approached to head the company when it was in a formative stage but declined. It is understood that he explained that while he saw in such a combination of services the swift advancement of aviation he reiterated his frequently expressed intention of not becoming financially interested in any individual aircraft company, at least not for the present.

Present plans call for the following method of traveling: passengers bound for the west coast will entrain from New York to Columbus, Ohio; fly from there to Wichita, Kansas; sleep on a train to a point in New Mexico, and then fly to Los Angeles. Plane-train service from Columbus to points south

CAPITAL PUTS PENNSYLVANIA IN HOOVER LIST

Mellon Amplifies Statement and Says He Spoke Plain English

BY GEORGE R. HOLMES
Staff Correspondent

Washington, May 15—The capital wrote Pennsylvania's 79 votes in the Kansas City convention into the Hoover column today.

Almost the last lingering doubt that the Mellon-Vare organization will go solidly for Hoover was expelled today by Secretary Mellon's amplification of his Philadelphia statement.

"I don't see any reason for any doubt as to what I meant," said the secretary. "I spoke plain English. I think Mr. Hoover can win if he is nominated, and I think he would make a good president. Many things can happen between now and the convention, and for that reason it was thought unwise to make final commitment so far in advance."

If Coolidge Would — — —

The one thing that apparently can switch Pennsylvania from Hoover, it was indicated, would be for President Coolidge to consent to stand again. And that is a very remote possibility, not only in Mr. Mellon's opinion but in the opinion of every politician in Washington.

Mr. Mellon has had numerous callers since he returned to the capital. To them he has explained that with President Coolidge out of it he doesn't believe the Kansas City convention can logically go to any other man than Hoover. He considers that the party must go to the country in the approaching campaign on the record of the Coolidge administration, and he believes it would be entirely illogical for the convention to nominate a candidate who has disagreed with Coolidge policies as have both Lowden and Dawes.

The defeatist talk of the anti-Hoover allies hasn't impressed Mr. Mellon much. In discussing this phase of the campaign, Mr. Mellon sagely observed that in the heat of a pre-convention

PLANS SEA FLIGHT

Courtney Awaits Only Good Weather for Hop-Off

London, May 15—Capt. Frank T. Courtney, British ace, is expected to hop off for America in a flying boat just as soon as weather conditions permit, it was learned this afternoon. Courtney has been making secret preparations for the flight and is said to have his arrangements practically perfected. There will be room for only two in the plane.

It is believed that Courtney will leave the same point from which Commander Byrd and his companions started on their flight last year, Trepassey, Newfoundland.

MAY APPOINT NEW COUNTY RECORDER

Will Be Necessary If Smith Does Not Return Soon, Prosecutor States

Should Charles L. Smith, ... county recorder, fail to return soon, it will be necessary for the Board of County Commissioners to declare his office vacant. The board will then appoint Smith's successor. This is the opinion given this morning by Prosecutor Attorney Frank Wiedemann.

It is not likely that the commissioners will take any action however until T. W. Jones and A. C. Stull, state inspectors, complete their examination of the missing recorder's books. The examination will likely be completed Wednesday. The examiners were unable to say definitely when they would be through with the remaining 13 volumes of records which remain to be examined.

Still A Mystery

Smith's disappearance remained as much a mystery today as it was last Friday when it first became known publicly that the recorder was absent. Rumors that he had been seen in the city on several occasions since his disappearance April 29 were given little credence today. The parents had seen him according to their statement, two weeks ago last Sunday. They have heard nothing from him since.

In case it is necessary to appoint a successor to Smith the new official will serve until Jan. 1, 1929. Although Smith's terms runs until 1931, a vacancy in the office will necessitate the election of a new official in November to take office the following January.

If it is necessary to appoint a successor to Smith the new official will likely be a Republican, as are the three members of the Board of Commissioners are Republicans. Smith is a Democrat.

DENY GERMAN AVIATORS HAVE BEEN RECALLED

Berlin, May 15—Government officials today denied reports that Capt. Hermann Koehl and Baron Ehrenfried Von Huenefeld, the German transatlantic fliers, had been recalled to Germany.

They stated that the fliers had merely been queried as to how and when they intended returning so that a cruiser there could be planned for them.

The Germans proposed that on the ... of ... the ... and the ... should ...

SHELBY GIRL DIES IN FIRE AT WITTENBERG

Hilda Sipe Victim of Blaze That Causes $12,000 Damage at Springfield

"UPPER" GIRL IS SAVED

Mildred Finkle of Upper Sandusky Jumps from Window and Is Uninjured

Miss Hilda Sipe, Shelby, freshman at Wittenberg College, Springfield, was burned to death as three others were slightly injured in the fire which practically destroyed Weimer Hall, small dormitory which housed 22 young women on the campus early this morning. Miss Mildred Eckle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Foster Finkle of Upper Sandusky, escaped unharmed when she jumped from her window.

The body of Miss Sipe was recovered this morning by firemen. College authorities expressed the belief that Miss Sipe fainted while trying to escape the building.

Miss Mary Livengood of Reading, Pa., suffered a broken arm when she stumbled as she was fleeing from the blazing hall. She is confined in the college hospital.

Miss Helen MacClain, daughter of former Mayor John MacClain of Troy, Ohio, sprained both legs when she half slid and fell jumped down the fire escape leading from a second story window.

The students fled from the structure partially clothed.

Other buildings on the campus were deserted when the fire broke out and the reports circulated that Miss Sipe was in the burning building. It was with difficulty that firemen restrained some of the men students in going in search of the victim.

The fire was discovered about 2 o'clock. It is believed to have started in the public reception hall of the dormitory. Authorities and firemen could place no theory as to the origin of the fatal blaze.

Though the whole student body crowded around the burning hall no evidence of excitement or hysteria were manifested, even by the women students.

Miss Sipe was said to have died from

HAYWOOD CONTINUES TO FIGHT OFF DEATH

Former Leader of Workers Shows Remarkable Reserve Strength

Moscow, May 15—William D. (Big Bill) Haywood, former Chicago leader of the Industrial Workers of the World is putting up an amazing battle against death.

Just as it appeared that he could not recover from a severe attack of heart weakness he rallied and displayed a reserve strength that astonished the doctors of the Kremlin Hospital.

Before his latest attack Haywood has been removed from the hospital to the Lux Hotel, where he made his home. He had been suffering from a complication of diseases, chief of which were heart weakness and diabetes. The diabetes symtoms yielded to insulin treatment and Haywood seemed to be on the road to recovery when he suffered a heart relapse.

The Kremlin Hospital doctors considered sending the patient to Marseilles, a north Caucasian sulphur springs resort, for special treatment but it was decided that his heart was too weak to stand the strain of the trip.

ARMED BANDITS ROB INSURANCE COMPANY

Branch Office of Prudential Looted of $8,000 in Receipts

Harrison, N. J., May 15—Four armed bandits entered the branch office of the Prudential Insurance Co. here today, overcame the manager and two employes with guns and escaped in an automobile with $8,000 in collected policy receipts. The cash had been counted only a few minutes before the bandits entered the office.

Sings in Grand Opera

Marion Girl's Debut in Production of "Rigoletto" at Lovere, Italy, Is Described as Outstanding Success

MISS VIVIAN LONG

MISS VIVIAN LONG, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Long, Wind or st., made her bow as a singer of grand opera when she sang the role of Gilda in "Rigoletto" May 1, 2 and 3 at Lovere, Italy. A cablegram announcing the success of her debut has been received by Mr. Long.

Marion friends and not ones of the city have long been interested in Miss Long's career as a singer and news of the success of her debut is received with a good amount of enthusiastic pride among them.

Miss Long, who is only 19 ...

been abroad since March 25, 1927 and has devoted her time to study in voice and acting with Maestro Picchi and Ciribidi. Since she has been abroad she has sung with a number of opera singers, among them Frederick Ford who was heard in "Norma" when the opera was presented recently by members of the Metropolitan Opera Company in Cleveland.

Starring High S chuate

Miss Long is a graduate of the Harding High School 1926 at that time composed the class song. Until going abroad to study she had no other singing except her mother, who also is a lyric soprano singer.

Nov. 20 1926 he was granted an audition with Schipa at Cleveland, who urged Mrs. Long to take her daughter to Italy. March 11 Miss Long sang for Guido Cesarza at the Metropolitan Opera House in New York City, and at that time Mr. Cesarza asked that she come to him immediately upon her return from Milan. She was asked to take the principal role in the opera "Don Pasquale," in March of this year, but for various reasons, declined.

Miss Long's musical career in local circles dates back to when she was four and one-half years of age and sang a solo, playing her own accompaniment, in the First Presbyterian Church here. She also sang in the adult choir of the church at the age of 16 years.

Miss Long, with her mother, sailed from New York City for Milan, March 12, 1927 on the Steamship Roma. They may return to the United States fall and possibly not ...

ANNEXATION PLAN AROUSES PROTEST

Property Owners Object To Having Acreage Taken into City

Proposed annexation to the city of approximately 60 acres of land lying south of Bellefontaine st. and west of Davidson which was first presented to City Council at the meeting of that body three weeks ago, is not being favorably received by owners of property in the territory.

Attorney J. M. Sturditz, representing Dr. Carl W. Sawyer, and Attorney W. N. Harder, representing other property owners in the district, appeared before council at its meeting last night and entered formal protest against the proposal. Dr. Sawyer was also present at the meeting.

A change in the original plat which eliminates a portion of the Sawyer property from the territory to be annexed, removed the protest by Dr. Sawyer although it was not definitely stated by Attorney Sturditz that the physician's name would be withdrawn from the remonstrance.

Other property owners in the district through their attorney, declared the action would cause a depreciation in value, and in addition would [illegible] ...

AGAIN DELAYS FINAL VOTE ON BUS FRANCHISE

Action on Ordinance Is Blocked by Stand of Three Councilmen

PRETTYMAN PROTESTS

Purpose of Conference with Street Railway Officials Not Definitely Known

The ordinance granting a franchise to the Mack Brothers Transit Co. for establishment of a bus service here, which was given its first reading at the meeting of City Council three weeks ago again struck a snag last night when Council voted to table the ordinance until after a meeting to be held with officials of the street car company, Wednesday night.

The meeting will be an executive caucus session and is to be held in the office of Mayor Hazen. It was stated while members of Council were not willing to divulge just what questions will be brought up, it is generally assumed that the discussion will be relative to renewal of the C., D. & M. franchise for operating interurban cars over the city streets.

It has been intimated that the city may seek to use the interurban franchise negotiations as a means of inducing the C., D. & M. to continue operation of the city car service. The interurban franchise will expire in July.

Has Made Plans Known

The C., D. & M., however, has definitely stated that it does not intend to continue operations of the city car service after the franchise expires in October.

A resolution adopted by the Marion Central Labor Union, taking a stand against both renewal of the street car franchise and granting a bus franchise, was read to Council and placed on file.

The resolution which was passed by the Union organization on April 27 charged that the C., D. & M. had failed to provide satisfactory service, that the fares to be collected by the bus lines are exorbitant and recommended that the street car lines be taken over by the city.

Following the second reading of the bus franchise ordinance last night, Wilkins moved that it be tabled until

$300 APPROVED AS ALLENSWORTH'S PAY

City Council Fulfills Contract with Engineer in Gas Rate Fight

With the passing of an ordinance authorizing the payment of $300 to H. H. Allensworth, of Columbus, appraisal engineer, City Council at its meeting last night fulfilled he contract with Allensworth for his part in the rate fight being waged by the city against the Logan Gas Co. According to former City Solicitor Grant D. Mooney, Jr., who has represented the city in the fight, testimony given by Allensworth before the State Utilities Commission reduced the value of the Logan Co. property, upon which the rate will be based, approximately $15,000,000.

Council also provided for the payment of $2,042 to Armstrong & Oliver, professional stenographers, for their work in taking records at the hearings before the Utilities Commission.

But Monica said [illegible] preferring that this self-[illegible] nurse, this self-appointed [illegible] of the law, should not suspect [illegible] got on was known. For near[illegible] hours Mason slept heavily in [illegible] so soundly, in fact, that [illegible] suspected the nurse of having [illegible] a small dose of veronal or [illegible] equally potent sleep-p[illegible]

[illegible] sunset the nurse stepped [illegible] for a brief walk through the [illegible] the cabin. The instant [illegible] of the yard Monica spoke [illegible]

"[illegible] dinner, Bob, when you go [illegible] your nightly exercise, come [illegible] on to the barn. You will [illegible] horse there, saddled. It's a [illegible] on to start you back to San [illegible]. "You'll ride down off Bogus to [illegible] Tony Garland's new station at [illegible] end of Tantrum. You'll [illegible] be in his window and prob[illegible] be out to meet you on the [illegible] I'm going to telephone him now, [illegible] has taken possession of Uncle [illegible] old flivver and fixed it up [illegible] gave you some money, and to-[illegible] morning, after Tony has [illegible] Bogus trail and sent Chief [illegible] Casey riding up, you will beg [illegible] the merry old flivver and start for [illegible] Quentin. By the way, did that [illegible] give you something to drink, [illegible]

"[illegible] she gave me a jolt of Uncle [illegible]'s moonshine."

"But it [illegible] taste queer."

"We can tell nowadays whether [illegible] tastes queer or otherwise? It [illegible] was made an egg nog of this [illegible]

"[illegible] put you to sleep, knowing I [illegible] ed on you to remain awake [illegible] I was out of the cabin. Now we [illegible] outsmart her. Leave Uncle [illegible] flivver in the prison garage [illegible] ing an escaped convict."

"Well, before you pronounce judgment, Chief, suppose you take that question up with Sheriff Bentley. Wouldn't it amaze you to discover that Bob Mason has been Sheriff Bentley's prisoner all this time and that the sheriff, knowing Bob couldn't escape, left him in my charge?"

"But he has escaped," Casey protested.

"Who told you that?"

"Well, of course, I thought—"

"Ditch that train of thought, and light for an hour or two. What's the gossip from down below?"

The chief ranger stared at her heavily for several seconds, then his face lighted with a broad smile. The joke was on him, and he realized it; like a good sport he had to acknowledge it. He dismounted, dropped his reins and sat down on the bench under the sugar-pine.

"The least said about this whole affair the better for all concerned," he admitted. "After all, I don't know who I could secure to take your job over here."

"None so poor to do me reverence, Chief. Thanks. Just don't say anything to anybody—particularly to your wife, who doesn't like me. She's discussed me to my detriment already."

The chief ranger sighed. "Everything in this world would be pretty good if the confounded women would only mind their own business," he declared.

"Do you hear that, Mrs. King?" Monica called mischievously to the nurse, who had come out to join them.

"That's the thanks I get," Mrs. King declared with dignity.

"You should have remembered, Monica chided her, "that the first bearer of unwelcome news hath but a losing office." She excused herself, stepped inside to the telescope and searched the green expanse of Tantrum Meadows, far below. Presently she made out Bob Mason scurrying down the meadows in Uncle Charley's disreputable car, and thrilled when she realized he knew she was probably watching him, for she saw him face toward Bogus and wave his hand in farewell.

An hour later Anthony Garland rode up the trail leading one of Uncle Charley's little pack mules with a stock saddle on it.

"What are you doing here, Garland?" the chief ranger demanded.

"Oh, Tony's been committing a misdemeanor or two himself," Monica answered for him. "He brought the horse up from below and now he's here to bring her back. He's such a nice, obliging neighbor, is Tony."

Tony bowed low in his saddle. "I have a hired flivver at the foot of the trail, Monica," he announced. "Produce the duty-bound lady and I'll be off. That flivver is costing all of $2 an hour—the best possible rates I could get in Dogwood Flats."

When he rode away with the nurse Chief Ranger Casey rode with them and for the first time since the day before the fire Monica found herself alone on Bogus again. But the great loneliness was gone, never to return. The mournful sighing of the wind through the tops of the pines, the weird scream of a hungry she-panther in the dead of night, the silence on still days, that is like the thunder of many guns—all these had lost their power to grieve her soul. Her Prince Charming had found her, even on the crest of Bogus, and all was well with the world.

Love's Embers

A Sequel to "Revelations of a Wife"

BY ADELE GARRISON

Harry Underwood "Come Back"

THE seconds following Lillian's cry of "Harry!" as "K. seven" with the Princess Olima of Transvania in his arms, fell to his knees at the shot from Sergius' revolver, are a jumble in my memory. From somewhere I found the sense to blow the police whistle, although it was not needed, for Allen and Dicky were like tigers as they fell upon the man. He managed to shoot his revolver twice more, but they were random shots, although they made me wild with terror until I saw that Dicky had not been hit. It was not until afterward that I realized how my whole being had been centered upon that one thing. But assured of his safety, I turned back to the astonishing scene at my side. The Princess Olima was feverishly unrolling herself from the blanket swathing her, while Lillian had sunk to her knees and was cradling the unkempt red-bearded man in her arms.

"The flashlight, Madge," she said peremptorily. "I'm afraid he's hurt badly."

With fingers that trembled I turned the flashlight upon the man's face. He looked up at me with lips twisted with pain, but with eyes no longer blinking.

"Hello! Lady Fair," he said. "Don't let her scare you. He drilled me all right, but it isn't anything vital. However, I don't believe I'll try to walk to the house."

Harry Underwood! The red-bearded man was not only "K. seven," he was Harry Underwood, Lillian's recreant husband. This was another instance of his atonement for the awful traitorous act, the result of months of drunken debauchery and the sinister influence of Grace Draper, which so nearly had cost Dicky's life at the Mineola aviation field during the World War. He had done his part under another name in the ambulance service afterward, and Dicky long ago had given him his friendship again. But he had been a man of mystery ever since although he had reappeared in our lives for brief intervals, only to be gone again. And now, as I looked down into his graying face, I wondered if he were to make the last supreme atonement.

There was the sound of a swiftly revolving motor, and the next instant the headlights of the Veritzen limousine picked our group out, and the car came to a sudden stop, while from it came my employer and his chauffeur, together with Jim and my father, whom they had picked up on the way. At the same instant Allen Drake and Dicky, jerking a tightly bound but unsubdued Sergius after them, dashed up.

"Hold him, Allen," Dicky said, and went down on his knees upon the other side of Lillian, while I trained the flash light upon Harry Underwood's shoulder, from the front of which blood was flowing. It did not need medical knowledge to see that the wound was a serious one.

"Steady, old man," Dicky said, making a quick, sure emergency survey of the wound. Then he stood up and beckoned to Otto.

"You're the strongest," he said. "Help me get him into the car. Did you and Mr. Vertizen can help steady him. Jim help Mr. Drake with that animal if he needs it."

Even through the terror of the moment I found myself thrilling with pride at the way Dicky dominated the situation. It was a position which he kept while his old friend was laid upon a bed and given first aid by Katherine and while a surgeon rushed from the hospital found that though the wound was painful and had resulted in much loss of blood, it was not so dangerous as to involve an operation or removal to the hospital. Then Dicky turned to my father.

"Now Dad, you can go ahead with the inquisition upon Sergius. Old Harry's going to live and everything's right with the world."

What went on behind the closed doors of my father's rooms, I did not know, did not want to know. The three men, my father, Allen and Dicky, were steeled with the knowledge of the awfulness of the plot of which this man was one of the leading spirits, and I think it was a drawn but effective third degree that was used in those rooms during the next forty-eight hours. At the end of that time a thoroughly subdued, cringing man was bundled into Mr. Veritzen's limousine for a journey to headquarters of the secret diplomatic service.

The coup had been successful. I was vaguely glad and proud of my share in it when my father declared the capture of Sergius to be the missing link of the vitally important chain which he and Allen Drake had been forging during their long and mysterious absence. But neither Lillian nor I had time or heart for anything save a curbing interest in the final clearing up of the problem, vitally important to all of us though it was. With Dicky we were helping Katherine and nurses from the hospital in the battle to keep Harry Underwood, a living factor in the world to which he had so spectacularly returned. For while his wound was not dangerous, pneumonia had set in, and the battle for his life was a terrific one.

Part of the time he was delirious and his ravings were an odyssey of his wanderings in the mysterious years when he had been absent from us. Privation, suffering, danger, the indomitable determination to atone for his crime, all were revealed, coupled with a monotonous recurrence of a queerly phrased question. "Well? Lil! how about it? Will it do?" Copyright, 1928, Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

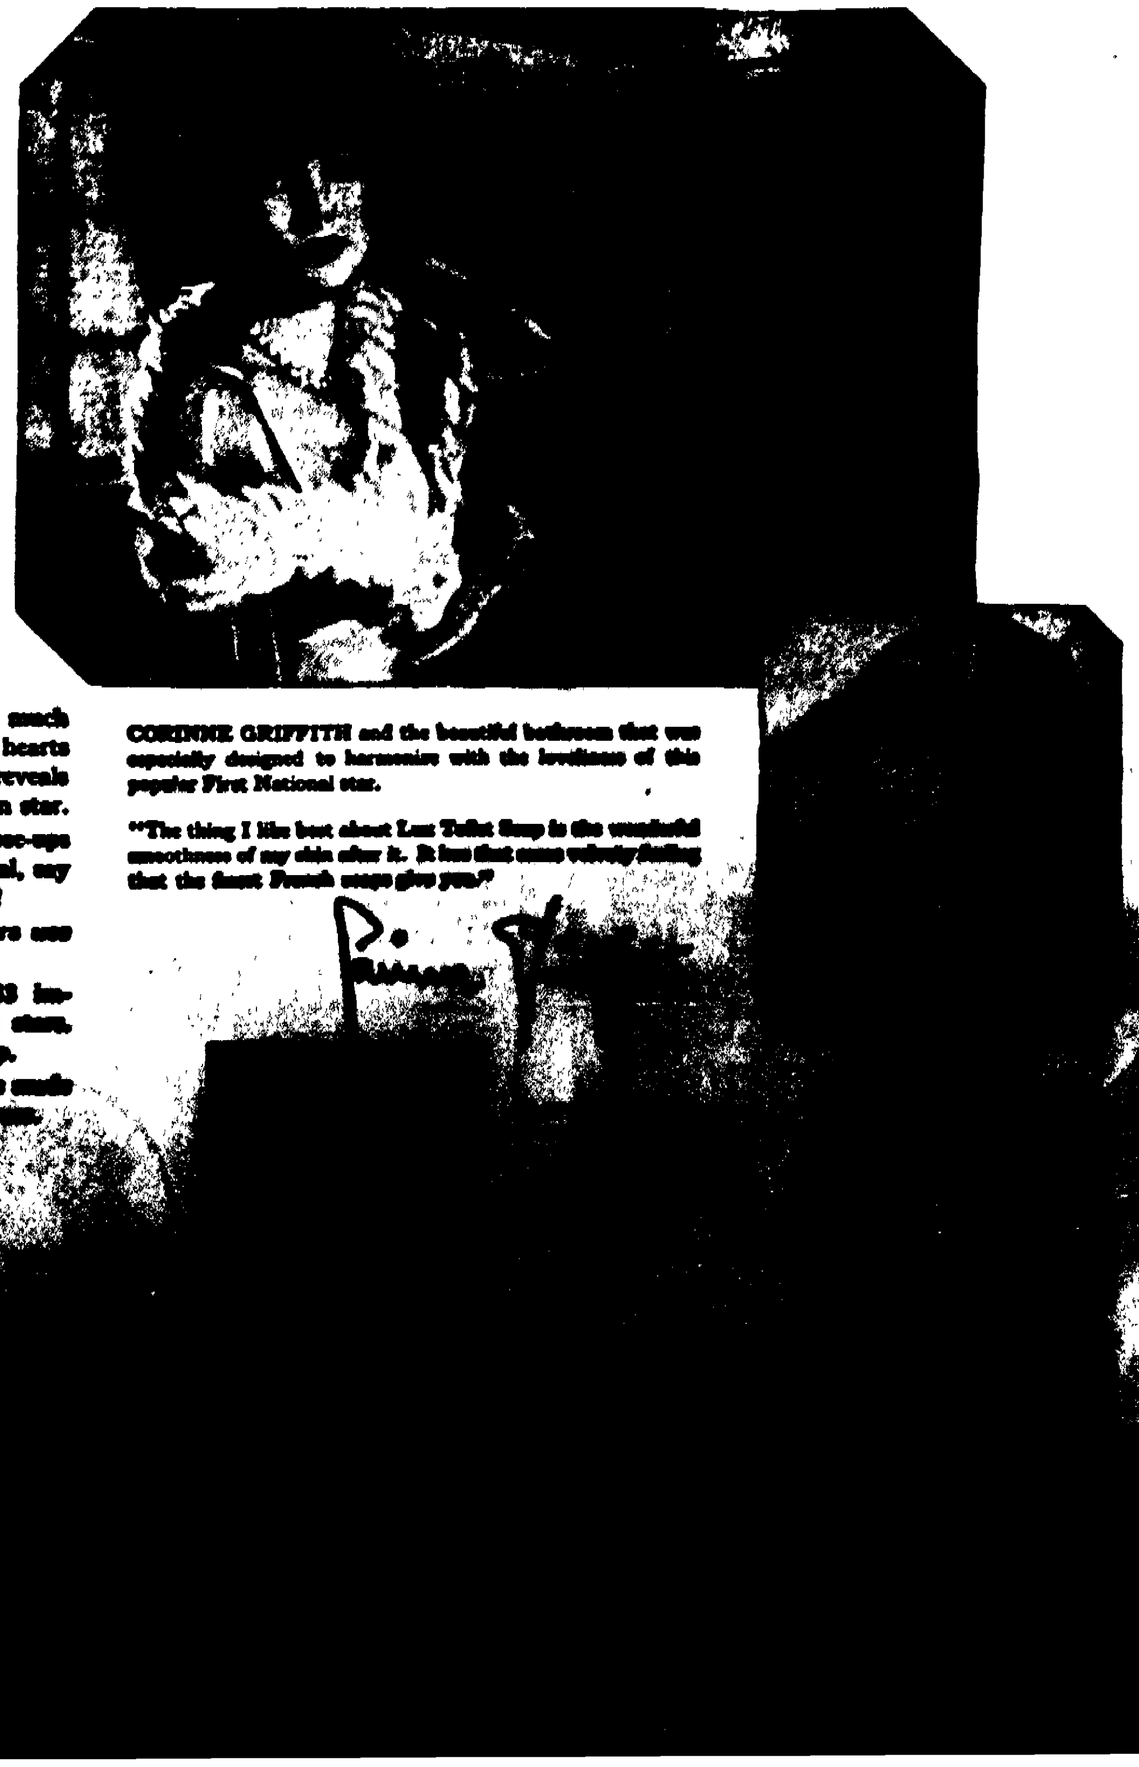
Leading Hollywood directors decide girl's greatest charm is smooth skin

Screen stars know the velvety beauty of their skin heightens their allure. Directors have found that very little make-up is possible under the fierce lights of the close-up. Therefore stars must keep their skin always appealingly smooth, exquisite. 96% of all the lovely complexions you see on the screen are cared for with Lux Toilet Soap.



A GIRL'S lovely skin adds so much to her charm—a million hearts beat faster when the close-up reveals the radiant loveliness of a screen star.

To screen successfully in close-ups exquisite velvety skin is essential, say leading motion picture directors!

Nine out of ten screen stars use Lux Toilet Soap.

There are in Hollywood 433 important actresses, including all stars. 417 of these use Lux Toilet Soap.

All the great film studios have made it the official soap in dressing rooms.

CORINNE GRIFFITH and the beautiful bedroom that was especially designed to harmonize with the loveliness of this popular First National star.

"The thing I like best about Lux Toilet Soap is the wonderful smoothness of my skin after it. It has that same velvety feeling that the finest French soaps give you."

Jubilee's Pardner

A Story of Boyhood Adventure

BY JUDD M. LEWIS

There are going to be lilacs before so very long and apple and peach blossoms, and then there will be green apples and green peaches and a fella will begin to eat again, and snakes and frogs and mudturkles. The summer is the best time of year after all, except that when a fella wants to go swimming there is always a lot of girls thinks he is going on a picnic and wants to go along.

When I had let Jubilee down by the rope in his teeth this morning and had fed my face and me and the bunch had went to school. We were early so we went across the road where they are building a new house. We put a plank up on the new fence they are building and we had a see-saw for quite a while. When the school bell rang Feeble was on one end of the see-saw and Nibs on the other and Feeble's end was down and Nibs was way up in the air, and when Feeble heard the bell she jumped off and Nibs came down so hard we could hear his teeth snap together.

Nibs said he guessed the spine of his back was busted, and two of us helped him across to the school, and we had to almost carry him upstairs and put him in his seat real careful. He was clinching his teeth and groaning at every move, and the teacher asted what was the matter with him, and the Last Bag of Tripe told her how Feeble left Nibs hanging in the air. The teacher asted Nibs if he thought he could get home by himself, and she looked real sorry for him. He cried and said he thought he could, so she told him he might go. He went crawling out of the room and we heard him limping all the way down stairs, and then I saw the teacher go over and shake by the [illegible] out [illegible] pushed [illegible] and [illegible]

Leadership of the Sunday School League No. 2 today rested between Lee Street and United Brethern as a result of games played on local diamonds last night.

Lee Street maintained their perfect standing by defeating Epworth Juniors. The Juniors dropped to a tie for second place after being in first last week.

United Brethern won a 10 to 5 contest from the Reformed team. The Reforms are tied for last place with Presbyterians No. 2 who lost to Forest Lawn. The latter team advanced to second place.

Christian No. 2 moved down and Lutherans moved up to second place as a result of their tangle last night. The Lutherans won.

All postponed games will be played on the following Wednesday. Industrial League contests called off on account of rain last week will be played this week. The following schedule has been announced: Fairfield vs. Shovel Club at Fairfield; Osgood vs. Hocking Valley at Lincoln and C. D. & M. vs. Huber at Central. The Excavator-Roundhouse game has been awarded to the Erie team.

CUBS DEFEAT GIANTS THIRD STRAIGHT FRAY OF CHICAGO SERIES

Reds Stay in National League Lead by Winning Over Phillies

New York, May 15—Despite the fact that they are carrying a flock of weak-hitting infielders and that the highly touted Kiki Cuyler has been a total flop, the Chicago Cubs are riding on the crest of a wave of nine straight victories today. McCarthy's gang set off a third bomb under the Giants yesterday, shoving the Giants to fourth place by defeating them 8 to 2.

The Reds drubbed the Phillies again, 8 to 4, and clung to their one-game lead over the Cubs. The paralyzed Phils nicked Luque for four runs in the first inning and then relapsed into their customary coma. Callaghan, Cincy rookie, got his seventh hit in eight times at bat and advanced to second place in the National League batting averages.

St. Louis nosed out Boston, 4 to 3, and jumped to third place. Haley lined out four hits.

Pirates Lost Another

Thirty-five players, almost enough for four teams, participated in a see-saw contest between Pittsburgh and Brooklyn. Statz's double gave Brooklyn a 7 to 6 margin.

The New York Yankees ran their percentage up to .800 by downing Detroit for the third time, 7 to 5. Babe Ruth got his ninth homer and George Pipgras turned in his sixth straight victory.

Jimmy Foxx, pinch hitter, pulled a Frank Merriwell by smacking a home run with two men on base in the tenth inning, enabling the Athletics to finally stop Cleveland by a 6 to 3 score. Lefty Grove whiffed 11 batters and won his fifth straight game.

Nats Nip Sox

Washington finally got started at the expense of the White Sox. The Nats nipped the Sox 4 to 2.

Believe it or not, the Boston Red Sox are in sixth place. Ed Morris, Sox rookie, won a 3 to 2 duel from the veteran Sam Gray of the St. Louis Browns.

DATES FOR LEGION GAMES WILL BE SET AT MEETING

Dates for the Marion American Legion baseball games will be decided on at a meeting of the baseball committee and team captains tonight at 7:30 o'clock. The meet will be held at the American Legion Dugout.

Teams entered are Elks, Kiwanis, Seofield Heights, Marion Wildcats and K. of C.

TO PLAY ERIE

Butler Clothiers will play the Erie Roundhouse at the Erie tonight at 6:15 o'clock.

THEY ARE HOPING FOR THE BEST

Left, Bert Shotten, new manager, and Heinie Sand, shortstop and field captain of the Philadelphia National League team, who hope to get the Phillies out of the cellar and up into the first division. With the addition of two new infielders and another flychaser the team is showing much more life.

FIGHTERS ON EDGE FOR BOUT THURSDAY

Mandell Remains 7 to 5 Favorite To Retain Title; McLarnin Goes Good

New York, May 15—Sammy Mandell of Rockford, Ill., world's lightweight champion, and Jimmy McLarnin, hard-hitting Californian, were on edge today for their 15-round bout here Thursday. Both will take light workouts today and rest tomorrow.

Mandell wound up his hard training by sparring for 13 rounds yesterday at Gus Wilson's camp in Orangeburg, N. Y. He is down to 136 pounds.

Because of his terrific punching power, McLarnin has been able to secure only one sparring partner. This courageous gentleman is Richie Randolph, an amateur welterweight from Missouri.

"Baby face" already has knocked Randolph out three times at his camp in Pompton Lakes, N. J.

Mandell remains a 7 to 5 favorite to retain his title.

LATZO IS CONFIDENT

New York, May 15—Pete Latzo, ex-champion of the welterweight division, was confident tody that he will take Tommy Loughran's measure in their light-heavyweight title go in Brooklyn on May 30. The former Scranton, Pa., coal miner handed Ring Conley, of Lewiston, Me., a terrific beating in their 10-round bout here last night. Several times Latzo had Conley at his mercy, but eased up.

BAM LAMS ELAM

Ruth Gets Ninth Homer; Is Ahead of Record

New York, May 15—"Bam Lams Elam" chorused the headline writers as Babe Ruth nicked Elam Van Gilder of the Detroit Tigers for his ninth homer of the season yesterday. "Goosin" Elam, as the Bambino calls pitchers who are easy for him to hit, has been the victim of a Ruthian four-base wallop eight times in his career.

Ruth is now four games ahead of his record-smashing 1927 pace and the standing in the home run derby is Ruth 9, Hauser 7, Bissonnette 6, Gehrig 5.

RAY SNYDER SCORES TECHNICAL KNOCKOUT VICTORY OVER NAGEL

Local Boy Wins by Technical Knockout; Brown Bests Lupica

Ray Snyder, Marion, who has been fighting preliminary bouts before local fans here, added another rose to his crown last night when he was awarded a technical knockout over Johnny Nagel of Toledo.

The bout was stopped near the end of the scheduled six rounds when the Toledo scrapper was almost ready to check out. In two previous bouts Nagel was floored for the count of nine but managed to carry through in spite of the punishment he received.

Last night's card marked the end of the indoor boxing season in Marion. On June 4 the summer season will open at Crystal Lake Park. The program has not been arranged.

Sammy Lupica of Toledo was outsmarted in his eight-round battle with Jimmy Brown of Cincinnati. Brown was awarded the judges' decision after four of the rounds while two went to a draw.

Brown handled himself very well, managing by clever dodging and boxwork to avoid the Toledoan's murderous blows. Lupica was given but two rounds.

In the main go event, Bert Heathfield of Columbus failed to live up to his past reputation when he drew with Tommy Milton of Toledo after eight rounds. Heathfield apparently feared Milton's glove from long range and managed to end every burst of action in a clinch.

Doubt About Odds On Reigh Count Ends With Victory

FAVOR HERTZ COLT TO WIN DERBY EVENT AFTER FINE SHOWING

Winner of Mammoth Cave Purse: Bets Placed at 10 to 1

By DAVIS J. WALSH

[illegible] May 15—The still, small [illegible] concerning those 10 to [illegible] and even 4 to 1 future bets [illegible] Count's nozzle in the derby [illegible] no more this morning. It [illegible]led into a sense of com[illegible]ty by the Count's im[illegible]rformance in winning the [illegible]ave purse yesterday under [illegible] and well restrained in [illegible]r the mile and a sixteenth. [illegible] to Saturday's distance under [illegible]ing in 2:05 2-5 and full [illegible]ture derby will be won in [illegible]er than that.

[illegible]ng was needed to insure the [illegible]eigh Count will be a prohibi[illegible]e in the derby, his race in [illegible]ch Cave settled the matter.

Question Training

[illegible]settled that still, small voice, [illegible]ed among eastern racing men [illegible] of Ben Michell's training [illegible] colt. They said Ben was [illegible] for the Count to leave his [illegible] the training track by running [illegible]hard, too often and too far in [illegible]ng works. It didn't seem to [illegible] difference that Henley Webb [illegible] same tactics with Black Gold [illegible] Sammy Shannon did much the same [illegible]g Over. The Count was be[illegible]ed up, they said, and a lot [illegible] way to join the conflag[illegible]

However a 2:05 2-5 performance five [illegible] the big race speaks for [illegible] You can't go behind facts any [illegible] you can go behind the heel [illegible]—and the facts here are that [illegible] could beat some pretty good [illegible]didates, including Jack Hig[illegible]ley and Colonel Shaw, and [illegible] much in reserve. His time [illegible] and a sixteenth was noth[illegible] but the colt obviously was [illegible] his running over the first [illegible] in trailing Dodgson, Lawley [illegible] Higgins and even when he [illegible]own by Lang, he came to the [illegible] so little effort as to indicate [illegible] had plenty left if he needed it, [illegible]parently he didn't.

[illegible] I can't see anything to shiver about in the fact that you have your money riding on the favorite. There, unfortunately, has been as yet no amendment added to the racing code which prohibits a favorite from losing and it must be admitted that the derby has produced its share of disappointing public choices—but not in the last 19 years.

The lore of the downs, in fact, is fast taking on the suggestion that a derby favorite stands up. Zev was a roundly played favorite. He won. So were Bubbling Over, Morvich, Sir Barton, Black Gold and Exterminator. They won. Go back a few years and you find Paul Jones, George Smith and Old Rosebud, the record holder—winners all.

In fact, since the victory of the filly, Regret, only Fling Ebony really could be looked upon as an outsider and there could have been no actual standout in a field such as he faced.

All in all, the man is not so dumb who takes the outsider in the derby nowadays. He is dumber—old stuff, maybe, but still good.

It is hard to be the host; and it is equally hard to be company. Why, then, is there so much inviting?

VICTORY CERTAIN!

Miller Huggins, manager of the New York Yankees, champions of the world and American League, emphatically states there is not a stumbling block in the path of his team, and that he is certain they will run rampant this season to retain the pennant.

Bets Placed On Yankees Proving Bad Investments

By FRANK G. MENKE

ALL the "cuckoos" are not caged.

Some of them are abroad in the land moaning and groaning now because they bet 5 to 3 that the Yankees would win one pennant this season and bet 5 against 9 that the Pirates would grab the other strip of major league bunting.

In the rather lengthy history of gambling on this earth, there has never been a wilder or crazier spree than when folks bet $5 of their own money against $3 of the bookmakers that the Yanks would win the flag this year.

Based on all things logical and sane the Yankee fan should have received odds of at least 3 to 1 against his money, whereas odds of at least that—or better—should have been laid against the Pirates.

Easy Last Year

The Yankees merely galloped to victory in 1927. That made the cuckoos believe it would be just another romp in 1928. They came to that conclusion without taking into consideration that the Yankees last year were perhaps the luckiest ball team on earth.

At last four of the seven clubs that opposed them last season were tragic outfits. Accidents and illnesses came to the stars of the other teams that figured to have a chance. And while all seven rivals of the Yanks were either demoralized or handicapped through all or part of 1927, the Yankees rambled along wholly untouched by the sinister finger of misfortune.

If memory serves correctly, the Yanks went through 1927 intact—never knew a day when one of its real stars was on the hospital list—an extraordinary run of luck, bordering on the miraculous.

No Stronger This Season

It was one of those things that couldn't happen again—but a lot of "cuckoos" thought to the contrary. And while they were in such a mental state—or the lack of it—they failed to ponder a bit on the fact that 1928 certainly has nothing to do with 1927—or vice versa.

The Yankees went into battle this year no stronger than in 1927. But every other club in the circuit—every Yankee enemy—was stronger and better fortified due to trades, purchases or the development of youthful stars.

So it was obvious that even if the Yankees weren't battered by old Kid Hard Luck at the outset of this race, and even if they never felt his bludgeon all through the year, they could not hope to win by a margin anything like that of last year, due to the general strengthening of the opposition.

Yet the "cuckoos" bet $5 against $3 that the Yankees would win the pennant, ignoring the fact that injury to any star might reduce the Yankees to "just another ball club" whereas the forcing out of Ruth, Gehrig, Meusel or Pennock through illness or injury might scuttle the craft.

Fortune Changes

The season opened—and then the folly of the cuckoos became visible to the naked eye. Fortune that smiled so constantly through 1927 frowned with the opening game. Tony Lazzeri, the second basing star, was laid up. After that Waite Hoyt was laid on the shelf. Then Earl Coombs captured a bad cold, Myles Thomas took sick and after that Miller Huggins had a spell of illness.

Urban Shocker, one of the aces of the pitching staff, refused to report because of salary differences until the season was two weeks along. And when the contract finally was adjusted Shocker reported ill and not in shape to go on the firing line until perhaps the middle of May.

The "cuckoos" who bet 5 to 3 on the Yanks figured they'd be about five games out in front now. Look at the standing of clubs and take note of the stupidity of their faith.

And, at the same time, gaze upon the Pirates. The "cuckoos" reckoned them as "sure things," they disregarded the strengthened Cardinal, the ever dangerous Giants, the eccentric but sometimes brilliant Dodgers. They ignored all things pertinent to a fling chasing episode and bet $5 against the bookmakers $3.

Since which time they have been growing more cuckoo than ever—from worry. And the only sympathy they get is "serves 'em right" from the vast army of fans who regard baseball races as a sporting thing—not a gambling opportunity.

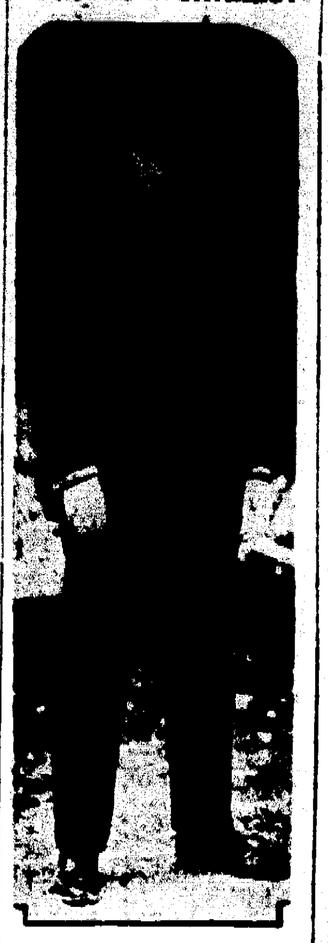
Claridon	(00)	102	03x	6	8	4

Batteries: Cline and Holt; Harruff and Hunt.

GREENLEAF LEADING

New York, May 15—Randolph Greenleaf, pocket billiard champion of the world, was leading Andrew St. Jean of Minneapolis by a score of 301 to 126 today in their special 1,500 point match. Greenleaf won the first two blocks by score of 136 to 97 and 225 to 29, making a high run of 106 in the second block.

OUSTED IN SHAKEUP



Judge Francis X. McQuade, treasurer of the New York Giants Baseball Club, was ousted at a recent meeting in favor of Leo J. Bondy, attorney who represents the Stoneham interests. McQuade who has long been associated with National League baseball in New York threatens startling revelations as the result of this action. It is rumored that the change was made owing to disagreement over the Hornsby trade.

Sharkey Will Not Compete For Heavy Literary Honors

BOSTON, May 14—Jack Sharkey has no intention of fighting Bill Shakespeare. Jack won't even consider a reported offer of many thousands to lecture upon the Bard of Avon at a University whose students are supposed to be even more "high hat" than those of Yale.

"I get more romance than there is in all the volumes of Shakespeare right here at home," said Sharkey, with a smile, as he glanced around the pretty little house that is the Sharkey domicile on the outskirts of the city.

"There's none of the tragedy, either. Occasionally though, Dorothy falls off her kiddy car and requires a little prompt attention to salve her injured feelings,' continued Jack, as he picked up his three year old daughter and gave her a toss into the air, much to the pleasure of that plump youngster.

At Home with Kids

"As far as I am concerned Gene Tunney can stick to his Shakespeare," remarked Sharkey, "and I will continue to have my good times with my youngsters, Dorothy and Marilyn.

"If Tunney ever is blessed with two pretty, active kiddies, he will give up Shakespeare, I think," went on Jack.

"Shakespeare won't be altogether a stranger to the Sharkey homestead, though, I guess," said Jack, as he pointed to Baby Marilyn, a year old in the corner of the davenport.

Marilyn was turning the pages of a child's Book of Knowledge with evident gusto, stopping here and there for a momentary inspection of something that drew her attention.

Dorothy is the older of the two girls. Her age is three years. Marilyn is well on her way to the weight honors among the junior members of the Sharkey family, though. The baby has exceeded two years in age and yet is nearly the same weight as her sister.

Young Prophet

Marilyn does not even know there is such a thing as the boxing ring. Dorothy probably could not tell you what it is, but she understands something about it.

Dorothy is also something of a prophet. Just before the Delaney bout, while Sharkey was away in New York, the tot was heard to say:

"Papa has gone to New York to fight Jack Delaney and he is going to knock him out, too."

Shakespeare may not mean much to the Sharkey family at the present time, but a family scene of Jack and his two pretty little daughters, is at least reminiscent of a title that Gene Tunney has not as yet discussed, "Heroes and Hero-worship."

Popular Operas of 1918

RED NETWORK PROGRAM

to Be Radio Feature

A mosaic of light operas popular in 1918 will be presented to radio listeners during the Goodrich Hour through the red network Wednesday night at 8:30 o'clock. The program will be given by the Silvertown Cord Orchestra and quartet and Caroline Andrews, soprano.

The program includes many imposing selections. The familiar "Jewels of the Madonna," by Wolf-Ferrari, will be played by the orchestra, as will Dillles' "March of the Clock." Miss Andrews will sing Sullivan's "Poor Wandering One," the waltz song from one of the popular operas and Dvorak's "Songs My Mother Taught Me." The ensemble will conclude the program with Goodwin's "That Wonderful Mother of Mine."

Eulah Corner, contralto will be heard through the red network stations Wednesday night in a recital. She will open her program with "L'Heure Exquise" by Poldowski at 6:45 o'clock, his number will be followed with "Morgen" by Strauss.

Victor Herbert's musical play, "When Sweet Sixteen?" with Jessica Dragonette, soprano, in the leading role, will be presented as the Philco Hour feature over blue network stations Wednesday night at 8 o'clock.

"Wedding Day at Troldhaugen," a descriptive sketch by the Norwegian musical giant, Edward Grieg, will be played as the opening number in the Hour of Slumber Music to be broadcast through the blue network Wednesday night at 10 o'clock.

First U. S. Air Mail Pilot Honored on 10th Birthday

WASHINGTON, May 15—James C. Edgerton, pilot of the first mail plane in Uncle Sam's initial peace-time venture on wings, was the honored guest at the Postoffice's tenth birthday party for the air mail today.

Edgerton, now a manufacturer's agent in the capital, piloted an old army "Jenny" from Philadelphia to Washington 10 years ago today in the first experimental flight. A consignment of mail from New York had been delivered to him by another pilot at Philadelphia. Because of the experimental nature of the undertaking it was considered necessary to break the 225-mile Washington-New York air-line at Philadelphia. The flight required almost four hours.

Today, there are 22 routes in operation over 9,316 miles of route, and the combined daily average mileage is approximately 23,000. The average combined load of mail planes is about 6,000 pounds daily.

After three months of experimental work between New York and Washington, the Postoffice took over the army equipment and began the development in its own right. In May, 1921, the first transcontinental route was established, but night flying did not come until July of 1924, when the lighted airway between Chicago and Cheyenne was opened.

Konjola Restored New Health Over Her Whole System

Says New Medicine Gave Her Amazing Relief from Stomach and Kidney Troubles

MRS. MINERVA DILL

"My health is back to normal and I give Konjola full credit, and I want to indorse it to others," said Mrs. Minerva Dill, 703 South Perry Street, Dayton, Ohio.

"During the last few months I could only eat certain foods because my stomach was so disordered. Everything caused me to bloat up with gas that made me short of breath. This condition caused awful headaches and dizzy spells. My kidneys were so weak I had to rise several times during the night, and my back was filled with aches and pains. I never felt rested and was so nervous everything upset me. I was wondering if I would ever be relieved of my miseries because nothing helped me in the least.

"But Konjola was different in my case. It helped me right from the start and soon I noticed the stomach trouble easing up. I now eat anything that is placed before me and know that I won't suffer afterward. The headaches and dizzy spells are relieved and I am never bothered with them. My kidneys are in perfect condition and the pains in my back are gone. The nerve trouble is ended and I now state that I am in perfect health and so I will always recommend Konjola."

Konjola is different than any other known remedy in this section. It contains twenty-two juices extracted from natural plants which invigorate the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels to a more healthy action. The effect of Konjola on the entire system brings amazing relief in cases of suffering that had been going on for years. At the same time many weak and rundown systems have been restored to a new state of health through this compound. Such a vast number of men and women in this city have told of their experience with this new medical product until now Konjola is the most highly indorsed medicine that is known in this vicinity.

Konjola is strongly recommended here in Marion at Stump & Sons Pharmacy and is also being sold by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this section.—Adv.

BLAME GOVERNMENT FOR SPECULATION

Said To Be Indirectly Furnishing Cash To Make Markets Hum

Washington, May 15—Uncle Sam is responsible for the phenomenal speculative activities of the New York and other stock markets.

Despite threats of legislative action to curb speculation, increase of rediscount rates at some of the reserve banks, and frowns of disapproval from certain quarters in Congress, the government is indirectly furnishing the cash to make the markets hum as they never hummed before.

This view was taken today by a number of government's leading financial experts, who attributed to the following factors the long continued "bull" market:

1.—Retirement of over a billion dollars a year in the public debt.

2.—Reduction of surtaxes in 1925 and 1926, enabling the extremely wealthy to invest in stocks instead of taking refuge in tax-exempt securities.

3.—Release of millions of dollars of corporate surpluses in the form of dividends—directly the result of lower surtaxes.

Experts said that these three post war developments have provided a gigantic surplus of capital, far in excess of the requirements of productive business, either domestic or foreign, and that naturally the unemployed funds found their way to the stock markets. Speculative loans from member banks of the Federal Reserve System in New York alone are close to $3,000,000,000—five times the pre-war national debt.

Feel Tired and Achy?

Too Often This Warns of Sluggish Kidneys.

LAME? Stiff? Achy? Sure your kidneys are working right? Sluggish kidneys allow waste poisons to accumulate and make one languid, tired and achy, with often dull headaches, dizziness and nagging backache. A common warning is too frequent, scanty or burning excretions.

Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, increase the excretion of the kidneys and thus aid in the elimination of bodily waste. Users everywhere endorse Doan's. Ask your neighbor!

50,000 Users Endorse Doan's:

Mrs. Ada Negley, 616 Easter Ave., Akron, Ohio, says: "Hard work disordered my kidneys. I suffered with a dull ache across my back and when I stooped, sharp twinges cut across the small of my back and hurt terribly. I had dizzy spells, too, and felt tired all the time. My kidneys acted too frequently. Doan's Pills brought me wonderful relief."

Studebaker, Hupp, Packard and Chrysler Make Up Fast-Steppers in Motors

BY W. S. COUSINS
International News Service Financial Editor

New York, May 15—The automobile stocks and the coppers shared the honors in an active and consistent forward movement of prices in the New York market. The airplane stocks spread their wings on a new 10 point rise on announcement that the railroad companies would manufacture auxiliary air line passenger routes, but radium in that section of the market was small and unimportant with Curtiss and Wright absorbing the spotlight.

Studebaker, Hupp, Packard and Chrysler made up the double team of fast-steppers in the automobile group, and their market activities goaded traders of the spectacular manner in which this group broke away from the general list to speed the market upward in the early part of last year Chrysler was under persistent profit taking around 80, but Studebaker ran off six points in one of the most active days in it whole career, while Hupp moved up nearly three points to around 46 and Packard was in demand near 74. Continental Motors, Peter Arrow and other low priced stocks were made strong.

A steady decline in the volume of copper metal held in storage in this country, together with the rise in the price of the red metal to 14½ cent a pound furnished the driving power behind the new advance of Anaconda, American Smelting, Cerro De Pasco and other well known copper shares. Nevada Copper was well bought above 25 and Magma above 53, both being new high record price for the year to date.

Both in the curb market and on the big board, the day will be remembered for the huge number of big blocks of stocks passing through the market. At least 10 blocks of stock above 20,000 shares, up to a maximum of 60,000 shares appeared in the reports of current sales.

Beginning shortly after the noon hour, heavy profit taking and short selling came into the market, blocking the progress of a number of the industrial stocks which have been moving forward briskly of late. To Wall Street it was said that professional traders were "feeling for the top of the current move, in expectation of a similar reaction in some of the high flyers as soon as they showed evidences of having reached the peak."

Today in Marion Markets

Groceries, Produce, Meats, Grain, Livestock

A reduction of five cents in the price of cucumbers, five cents a pound in the price of peas and rhubarb being quoted at three bunches for 10 cents, were the changes on the local market today. Other prices were steady. An increase in the supply of cucumbers and peas was given by dealers as the cause of the drop in price. Green beans continue scarce and the price is holding at 25 cents a pound. Dealers report an increase in the demand for new potatoes and a price of three pounds for 25 cents was being asked. Old potatoes are holding at 75 cents for good quality stock was in the market today and dealers report a fairly large demand.

Asparagus continues fairly plentiful. Good quality stock was being offered by dealers at 15 cents a bunch. Hothouse plant is supplying a very limited demand at 20 and 25 cents. Cauliflower continues high, dealers carrying small supplies that were moving slowly at from 35 to 45 cents. New turnips and new beets are both holding at two bunches for 25 cents. TODAY'S RECEIPTS AND YESTERDAY'S MARKET

Chicago, May 15—Bulls in corn got no mercy at the Board of Trade today. Had market began to sag immediately after the opening and all through the session showed only occasional rally of recovery size. Wheat was in retreat, the bulges proving, expected to follow but brief loss was small.

At the close wheat was 1½@1¾c lower to ¼c above 2½@2¾ cents, were down 1¾@2¾c for week and 2.6@2¾c.

The crash in oats was sensational for that grain. The biggest loss was suffered by the May future, seemingly to smash that for all the demand and high cash prices nevertheless holders of May contracts were not anxious to take delivery with the harvest of the new crop approaching.

Small Decrease in Visible

The somberness of the decrease in the visible supply of corn was a bitter disappointment to the supporters of that grain. It was only 188,000 bushels. It ought to have been up in the millions to carry out the predictions of bulls that supplies would melt away like the memory of an evil dream.

The decrease in the visible supply of wheat was over 2,000,000 bushels and the wheat market at times acted in a way that seemed to show it was getting good support.

Whether wheat is cheap or not at around $1.50 remains to be seen. Maybe it only seems cheap at that figure because of former price of 20 cents higher is so close to in the past. If one goes back to the late Winter, however, he finds that then the same wheat was selling around $1.30.

To be sure that news may eventually demonstrate that wheat is much too low at $1.50, but the recent experience of the trade is likely to make buyers cautious about believing bullish news.

After the close it was reported that corn is on the way here from Kansas City. More bearish news will probably be forthcoming now that the market has broken. It need not be accepted as gospel.

In the cash market wheat was unchanged; corn was 1c to 2c [illegible] were unchanged to [illegible] quiet; barley was [illegible]

O. S. U. STUDENTS PUBLISH CITIZEN

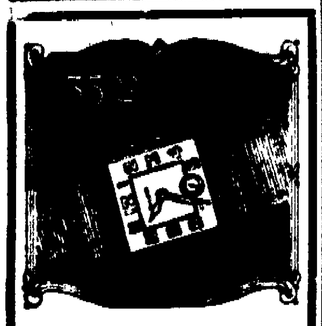
Marion O. Chenoweth Serves on Re-Write Desk for Day's Publication

Marion Star Bureau
Ohio State University

Columbus, May 15—Three Ohio State University journalism students, resident of Marion and towns in the immediate vicinity, were members of the staff of the Ohio State Lantern, the university daily newspaper, which published last Saturday's issue of the Columbus Citizen.

The student journalists were: Marion O. Chenoweth, of Cathcart st, Marion; Cleland Anderson, of Ostrander and Miles A. Smith, of Cardington. Chenoweth served on the re-write desk in the publication of the Citizen issue, Saturday. Smith was a member of the reportorial staff. Every office and position of the editorial staff of the newspaper was filled by journalism students on that day.

This is the thirteenth consecutive year that students of Ohio State were given charges of the Columbus newspaper for one day. The Lantern, edited by George A. Snodgrass, of Barberton, was recently picked as the best college daily newspaper in the United States.



A fine watch is recognized by parents and graduates alike as the one really appropriate gift at graduation.

Report That Erie Will Be Eliminated Leaves Marion With One Road in Merger

Hocking Valley Included in Van Sweringen Unification Program Scheduled for Federal Approval; Erie To Figure in Another Consolidation, Is Forecast

Announcement that the Interstate Commerce Commission is about to give a decision eliminating the Erie Railroad from the Van Sweringen plan to form a big eastern trunk line system with the Chesapeake & Ohio as a nucleus leaves only one line passing through Marion as a part of the general merger plan at least temporarily.

Under the decision, forecast in a report from Washington yesterday, the Van Sweringens would be authorized to combine stock control of the Pere Marquette and Hocking Valley Railroads with the Chesapeake & Ohio as the nucleus of one of the four great trunk line systems to be created in eastern territory.

The Hocking Valley, under the proposed plan, would handle a greatly increased amount of coal transportation from the southern fields. Marion, according to predictions made some time ago, will be the transfer point for coal shipments to the west when the consolidation becomes effective.

In Another System

Although the Erie is expected to be eliminated from the Chesapeake & Ohio merger, it will figure in another consolidation later on according to reports. The Federal commission, it is stated, will have no objections to the Erie being included in the fourth trunk line system of the Van Sweringens which is planned to take in the Pennsylvania, New York Central and Baltimore & Ohio.

The Erie railroad was the object of contention on which minority stockholders of the Chesapeake & Ohio opposed the proposed unification before the Interstate Commerce Commission. They protested against the Chesapeake & Ohio taking over the Erie lots from a financial and a transportation standpoint.

They charged the Van Sweringens on the financial side, with attempting to dump Erie stock on the Chesapeake & Ohio at a big profit.

On the transportation side they declared the Van Sweringens, once they had taken their profit, intended to recapture the Erie stock, divert the Chesapeake & Ohio's western traffic to the Erie to bolster that road up and thereby send its stock soaring again whereupon they would be in a position to resell at another profit.

Saves C. & O. Money

In behalf of the Van Sweringens, it was testified that unification of the C. & O. and Erie would save the C. & O. $22,000,000 which it shortly will have to spend to improve its lines west of Cincinnati. By diverting heavy traffic to the double-track, low grade Erie lines, these improvements would not have to be made.

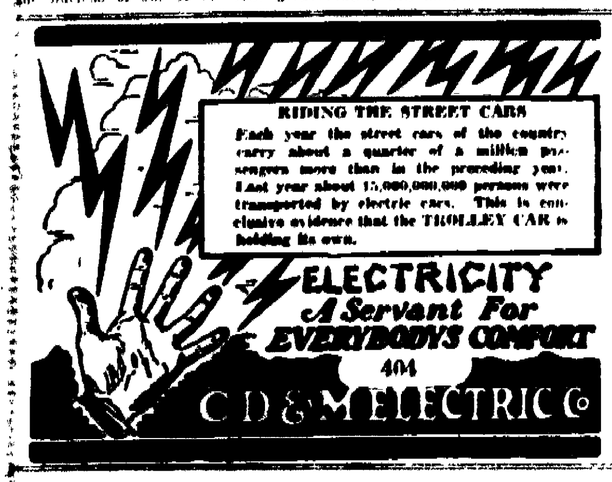
It was said Saturday that the commission's reasons for excluding the Erie from the Chesapeake & Ohio program were based entirely upon transportation considerations.

Regarded as Victory

In a statement made at Cleveland last night by persons close to the Van Sweringens, it was disclosed that while the promoters will not obtain all that they asked for, they will regard the reported decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission as a step toward completion of their gigantic rail program.

Exclusion of the Erie from the one phase of the program, it was indicated, is considered as at least a partial victory for the Van Sweringens.

Machine made politicians seldom become able statesmen.



RIDING THE STREET CARS
Each year the street cars of the country carry about a quarter of a million passengers more than in the preceding year. Last year about 15,000,000,000 persons were transported by electric cars. This is conclusive evidence that the TROLLEY CAR is holding its own.

CHECK FIRE BY USE OF "BOOSTER" TANK

Firemen Save Cottage-st Dwelling with Emergency Equipment

Value of the "booster" water tank, a part of the equipment of the new pumper at the No. 2 fire station here in fighting flames in the territory where there is no city water, was demonstrated yesterday afternoon when a fire which had engulfed the entire roof at the home of Elijah Canter, Cottage-st, was stopped at the second story. The loss on the dwelling, which is owned by the Kelly Island Lime & Stone Co., is estimated at between $300 and $400. The Canters had no furniture on the second floor and that on the first floor was removed before being damaged.

The blaze, which started from sparks on the shingle roof, had gained considerable headway when discovered by a neighbor who notified the family and sent in an alarm. Firemen from the No. 2 and 3 stations responded and there being no city water in the vicinity, the booster water tank on the No. 2 pumper was put into service.

A pump attached to the tank provides a steady stream of water from a one inch hose, the supply of water being replenished by a bucket brigade. For more than an hour while the firemen fought the blaze, the tank continued to supply a steady stream.

COUNCIL ASKED TO CONSTRUCT SEWERS

Petition Filed for Improvement Projects in Elm Heights

A petition signed by 19 property owners seeking construciton of a series of sewers in Elm Heights was submitted to City Council at its meeting last night. The petition, which was referred to the sewer committee, asks for sewers through an easement strip of land between lots 13177-13176; on Fairhaven-av from a present sewer at the rear of lot 13176 to Hane av; on Hane-av from Fairhaven av to a point about 100 feet north of Lake-st; on King-av from Fairhaven-av east to a point about 200 feet north of Bexley-av and on Lake-st from King-av to a point about 120 feet from Summit-st. The petition was referred to the sewer committee.

Petitions for paving of Pennsylvania-av from Center-st to Church-st, signed by 12 property owners, was also presented to Council and was referred to the street and alley committee.

A petition asking for a sidewalk on S. Prospect-st from Carner-av to the end of the present walk, presented to Council at last meeting, was returned with the approval of the street and alley committee and was referred to the solicitor for legislation.

ASSESSMENTS FIXED AT COUNCIL SESSION

Ordinance Specifies Levies on Property for Improvement Projects

Owners of property on Forest Lawn blvd between Indiana-av and Church-st will be required to pay $3 a lineal foot for a sanitary sewer and $16 for each sewer tap, according to an assessing ordinance passed by City Council at its meeting last night. Bonnet-av property owners will be assessed $1.75 a lineal foot for a sewer and $18.87 for each sewer tap.

The ordinance also provides for an assessment of $1.18 a lineal foot for a concrete sidewalk on the east side of Forest Lawn blvd between Indiana-av and Church-st, an assessment of $1.22 for a sidewalk on the west side of Closer-av in front of lots 9756 57 60 63-64 and an assessment of $1.61 a lineal foot for a sidewalk on the east side of Kensington pl.

The second step in the resurfacing of S. Prospect-st from Edgewood dr to the corporation line was taken by Council when an ordinance determining to proceed with the improvement was passed. The next step will be the passing of the assessing ordinance.

REMEDY IS SOUGHT FOR SEWER TROUBLE

Council Authorizes Investigation of Situation on Lincoln-av

Relief for residences on the vicinity of Lincoln-av from at least a portion of their sewer troubles was assured when City Council at its meeting last night instructed the building and sewer inspector to make an investigation of the condition of the Lincoln-av sewer.

Should the sewer be found to be the source of the trouble, it will cleaned out and repaired. If not, it is probable that council will follow out recommendations made by City Engineer Cathers and replace the red tile sewer on Grand-av from George-st to Farming-st with a 15-inch tile and in addition clean out and repair the sewers on Lincoln-av, Market and Fair, ground-st.

The engineer's estimate of the cost to rebuild the Grand-av sewer was $958 and he also asked for an appropriation of $500 to pay the cost of cleaning out the sewers.

TAX BILL READY

Dilatory Tactics in Senate May Delay Final Vote

Washington, May 15—The new tax reduction bill, authorizing a $227,000,000 slash in federal taxes payable next year, was ready for enactment by the Senate today although dilatory tactics by the opposition may delay the final vote for several days.

The administration insurgent alliance stood shoulder to shoulder throughout the tax battle, losing but one clash when the Democratic plan for a graduated tax on corporations was adopted. A second vote will be taken on this item and the reduction, opposed by the administration, may be eliminated. Administration spokesmen charged it would permit large corporations to divide their earnings among subsidiary corporations and evade millions of dollars in taxes.

DAMAGE CLAIM IS SETTLED BY COUNCIL

Payment of $30 to Truck Owner Authorized in Ordinance

City Council at its meeting last night provided for a settlement with Abe Schoen, whose truck was damaged by a fire truck on Davids-st several weeks ago, when an ordinance authorizing the city auditor to pay Schoen $30 was passed.

Schoen's truck was damaged when the driver of the fire truck attempted to pass between a street car and the Schoen truck while enroute to a fire on Davids-st.

A third attempt to pass an ordinance granting an increase of salary to members of the city engineering department failed at the council meeting when two councilmen voted against the suspension of the rules. The measure was supported by Councilmen Mead, Hiller, Haldeman and Williams. The ordinance would provide a salary of $7 a day for two first assistant engineers, $6.50 for one, $6 for one and $5 for a fifth.

COUNCIL VOTES FOR HOMER-ST PAVING

Resolution Passed After Project Is Held up Temporarily by Remonstrance

A resolution providing for paving of Homer-st from Center-st to Church-st, held up by a remonstrance at the meeting of City Council three weeks ago, was passed by that body last night after the street and alley committee had reported favorably. Following the reading of the remonstrance at the former meeting, the resolution was referred to the committee for further investigation.

A petition asking for closing of an alley between Park-st and Ballentine-av, presented to council at the last meeting and returned with the approval of the street and alley committee last night, was held up when a remonstrance was filed by property owners in the vicinity. The closing of the alley, which runs 140 feet south from Patterson-st, it is charged by those who signed the remonstrance, would make it impossible for them to use their garages. The matter was referred back to the street and alley committee for further investigation.

NO REPORT MADE

Uptown Street Projects Not Included in Council Proceedings

No reference to the petitions for repaving or resurfacing of Main-st from the Erie tracks to Columbus-st and of E. Center-st from Main-st to Greenwood-st, presented to City Council by a delegation from the East Center and South Main Streets Improvement Association three weeks ago, was made at the meeting of Council last night.

The petitions, which had been signed by a large number of property owners, were referred to the street and alley committee at the last meeting of Council. No members of the association were present at the meeting last night.

Reports on the city water submitted to Council by Floyd Browne, superintendent and chemist at the city disposal plant, at the meeting last night, showed the degree of hardness from April 24 to May 14, varied from 99 to 122 points. The chemist was instructed by Council to make a test each day and submit reports at intervals on the softness of the water.

DUFFY IN RACE

THOMAS J. DUFFY, former member of the Ohio Industrial Commission, who is to be one of the prominent speakers at the banquet held next Sunday night in connection with the Knights of Columbus state convention here, is reported as planning to run for senator in the Democratic primary against Senator Cyrus Locher of Cleveland.

Duffy is reported to have a large following among labor unions. He ran for governor unsuccessfully in the Democratic primary in 1922 when Gov. A. V. Donahey defeated him and former Supreme Court Judge James G. Johnson.

Duffy's home is in East Liverpool where he has been active in union work in the pottery industry. He is now practicing law.

"DOC" A GOOD "DICK"

"DOC" J. W. JOLLEY'S friends may be expected at any time now to move his membership on any of the Senatorial Investigating committees.

In addition to disporting himself at first base for the Kiwanians against the Stars in the Commercial League the other night the doctor qualified for several other jobs—detective and sprinting.

Baseball bats, the various players say, have been creating a habit of disappearing at the Fairfield diamonds. In the midst of the game some one whispered to the doctor that a youngster was making off with a bat. "Doc" didn't need a starter. He just "went."

Between machines he dodged, over lumpy ground he skipped and through high grass he skirted—the meanwhile yelping at a fleeing, bat laden lad to stop. The boy stopped, dropped the bat and kept going. And, so did the doctor. He kept calling. The boy again stopped, picked up the bat and started back. Within 50 feet he hurled the bat toward the doctor. But, the M. D. was insistent. And, finally the boy came up and it is reported that "Doc" gave him a lecture on the inadvisability of trotting off with other peoples property.

Not only the bat did the doctor bring back with him, but in his other hand he had a retrieved baseball.

PUBLIC SERVICE

THE old town clock in the courthouse belfry has weathered innumerable storms and rendered reasonably dependable service through more than four decades. As a rule it can be counted upon to give the errant husband fairly reliable information on whether he is out at an hour which will bring the family rolling pin into play.

But clocks, being the work of human hands, are subject to at least a measure of the frailties which are characteristic of humanity. Now and then it is too slow or too fast.

A few weeks ago the striking apparatus of the big timepiece got out of step with the mechanism and as a result was pealing forth the hour about 15 minutes late. The trouble was remedied after a few days of the irregular operation.

In connection with the incident, it was recalled that about 20 years ago Marion had a mayor who was exceptionally diligent in his attention to duty so much so that he extended his authority to supervision over the courthouse clock. It was a serious matter, he declared, to have the timepiece anything but accurate. A few minutes might result in some citizen missing a train while upon some unusually important mission.

So His Honor kept a check on the courthouse dome and whenever the clock was not running on the same schedule as his watch, he jacked up the custodians in a personal call or over the telephone.

Now and then investigation showed that his watch was wrong and the big clock right, but at any rate the mayor felt that he had done his duty. At that time the courthouse custodians were of the opinion that if everything in Marion ran as well and orderly as the town clock, the mayor and citizens generally would have little reason for complaint. And there are those who say that the same situation exists today.

CUPID'S MESSAGES

PUBLICITY matter announcing that Saturday, June 9, is to be observed as "Sweetheart Day" is now going through the mails and some of it has reached Marion. The announcements come chiefly from art publishing houses which make a specialty of fancy cards and other tokens regarded as appropriate expressions of sentiment for the occasion.

These firms recall that in years gone by, when pa and ma were in their courtship period, it was somewhat of a difficult task to convey expressions of affection suitably when June arrived who Cupid began to lay seige upon youthful hearts and minds.

Now it's a simple matter. "In this day of specialization," we are informed, "all a young fellow has to do is to 'break the ice' with a greeting card at a cost of a few paltry cents."

If such is the truth, things indeed have changed. At the same time, there are no reports of young feminine hearts in Marion being aflutter at this time in joyous anticipation of receiving their cards on June 9. The indications are that the ones remembered with candy boxes of generous proportions or attractive gifts from the florist's will be the most enthusiastic.

PERMISSION GIVEN FOR IMPROVEMENTS

Three Sidewalk and Sewer Projects Authorized by Council

Permission for three owners of Marion property to construct improvements at their own expense was granted by City Council at its meeting last night. Walter Larson was given permission to construct a sanitary sewer on Kenmore-av for a distance of 500 feet south from Chiver-st. Max Varrington was given permission to build a concrete sidewalk on both sides of Homer-st from Church-st south for a distance of 760 feet and Dr. S. W. Mattox was given a permit to build a concrete sidewalk in the first alley north of Fairmont-st west from Main-st for a distance of 60 feet. All of the improvements must be carried out under the supervision of the city engineer.

Council also passed an ordinance providing for the transfer of $500 from the account for payroll and laborers to the automobile repair account of the garbage collection department of the city service department.

Hundreds of American Hospitals Now Use This New Marvelous Healing Principle.

Sykodoner Demonstration Is Free—Want Only the Worst Cases.

Mr. Edward Snell, 845 Davids St., Marion, Ohio, foreman of the south yard at Pollak Steel Mills, like many others, went the rounds of the doctors, without results. Mr. Snell suffered with a stubborn affection of the mouth and throat, including internal goitre. Various kinds of treatments were resorted to, without apparent results. His was a bad case. Mr. Snell became very much discouraged; and had about decided that there was no help for him. His tongue was so sore that he could barely eat with any degree of comfort. He was very nervous; and smothering spells, from the goitre, only added more misery and discomfort to his other sufferings. It required but one or two delightful treatments with the famous Sykodoner, to convince Mr. Snell, that there was yet help in store for him.

He now rejoices to know that he has found real relief, after all the many disappointments and worry he was compelled to endure.

Demonstration Free—No One Turned Away—Rich and Poor Alike.

Regardless what your ailment may be, or what you may have used, and failed, by all means see the Sykodoner Man today, in his new, beautiful office parlors, at 543 N. Greenwood St., Marion, Ohio. Witness the most amazing phenomena of all your life—something, the like of which, you never saw before. It will mystify you beyond measure. You will not be able to explain it. Yet, it is here in Marion now. It is the talk of the town. Hundreds of the best Marion homes now enjoy its delightful healing effects. For health is the very best thing you will ever get—in this short life, at least. For without health, what have you? No drugs, serum, surgery, or even rubbing necessary. There is no shock or discomfort of any kind. It heals while you are comfortably seated in your chair, while conversing with friends, reading your bible, or favorite novel; or while sound asleep, perhaps. Why wait any longer? See it today; there is no cost or obligation. Phone 2760 for appointment in office, or even in your own home. Do it now—before too late. You just simply cannot afford to miss it! Thousands of others now rejoice, why not you?—Adv.

Mayor Receives Communication Urging "Know Ohio Week" Observance

Week' will be observed state next week.

...ion setting aside the ... for that purpose has ... Governor Donahey and copies sent to the mayors of all municipalities. Mayor Haven received his copy yesterday, along with a communication requesting him to issue a proclamation urging observance of the week here with programs acquainting local residents with the greatness of their state.

No formal proclamation or statement will be issued by Mayor Haven, however, he says that it will be left to each individual or group of individuals here to observe the week or not, as they see fit.

In a letter accompanying the proclamation signed by J. A. McKelvey, secretary to the governor, it is explained the movement was formulated after several years of planning on the part of a number of statewide organizations. The result is the "Know Ohio League," of which Dr. W. O. Thompson, president emeritus of Ohio State University, is president and W. M. James, head of the Motion Picture Theater Owners of Ohio, is secretary.

You Can't Make a Good Ginger Ale Over-night!

YOU might throw some materials together, and the next day you might call it "Ginger Ale"—but that would be a misnomer. Ginger Ale does not really deserve the name until it has been properly and scientifically aged.

In rare old Clicquot Club Ginger Ale the finest ingredients are first skillfully blended by a secret formula (the result of over 40 years' experience and known only to us); then this marvelous blend is AGED 6 MONTHS—the exact time necessary to secure the highest quality and to bring out that rich mellow flavor which distinguishes Clicquot Club from all other ginger ales.

OUTLINES POSSIBLE AUTO CLUB ACTION

May Seek Recovery of Gas Tax and License Funds, Whysall Tells Council

That some effort might be made by the Marion Auto Club to recover at least a portion of the money which he has said has been illegally spent out of the gasoline tax and automobile license fund, was intimated by George Whysall, president of the club at the meeting in City Council last night.

"I would not be surprised if the committee appointed by the club to investigate expenditure of the gasoline tax and automobile license money, should appear before this body with a report and with recommendations for the recovery of at least a portion of it," Mr. Whysall told council.

The question was brought out when some member of council plainly suggested to Mr. Whysall that the Auto Club should pay for the surfacing on S. Prospect st.

"I do not know but what you are right about that," Mr. Whysall said. "I do not believe the city should be called on to put the top on S. Prospect st. I believe the money should come out of the gasoline and automobile license fund."

"If we had all the money which has been used for the payment of things for which it should not have been used," Mr. Whysall continued, "we would have plenty to pay for the surfacing of the street out of these two funds."

A suggestion by Councilman Petty was that perhaps some of the money had been used to repair holes left in the streets by the water company after making connections was emphatically denied by Mr. Whysall.

"We have not only repaired the holes made by the water company, but also many made by the city heat where we were working," he declared.

President of Society for Crippled Children Tells of Great Work Achieved

Edgar F. Allen, One of Movement's Founders, Is Speaker at Marion Rotary Club Meeting; Praises Rotarians for Support of Cause

Quiet and kindly-spoken, but with an enthusiasm born of a vital interest in his work, Edgar F. Allen, of Elyria, one of the founders of the Ohio Society for Crippled Children and president of the International Society, told members of the Rotary club at their luncheon at Hotel Harding yesterday noon something of the history and purpose of the organization which has brought help to more than 225,000 children since its inception eight years ago.

Praising the local Rotary club for establishing of what he said is one of the most vital factors in helping the crippled child, the school for crippled children, the speaker declared he has always regarded the matter of education for the crippled child fully as important as medical treatment.

Experience in the crippled child movement has brought out one fact, the speaker said, and that is that the patient must be sought out. Parents, through lack of knowledge of the help that can be brought to their crippled children and through fear of the surgeon, have made the work of aiding the crippled child a difficult matter, he said. After these children are found, many times it is necessary to abandon treatment because the parents can not be convinced of the help their child will receive.

Account of Origin

How one little crippled boy by the name of Jimmie started the movement that has spread to 34 states of the union as well as to foreign nations, was told by the speaker. Eight years ago, he said, a little boy badly crippled was brought to the hospital in Elyria for treatment. Interest aroused by the success of the treatment prompted Mr. Allen with several others who were interested in helping the crippled child to make an investigation in the county to learn if there were not other children who might be helped.

The investigation, he said, revealed that there were more than 200 crippled children in the county. The hospital at Elyria, which had been built by Mr. Allen as a memorial to his son, was turned into a hospital for crippled children and the search for the unfortunate children was extended to other counties.

From this nucleus, the Ohio Society for Crippled Children was born and later the International Society for Crippled Children. With the creation of the organization the slogan, "To continue the work until every crippled child in the country would be able to run about and enjoy God's earth," was adopted.

Beneficial Laws

Passing of a law making possible the school for crippled children and the law providing state aid in carrying on the work of medical treatment, were pointed to by Mr. Allen as two of the outstanding accomplishments of the society in Ohio. An increase in the money being spent by the state from $15,000 to $400,000 a year for the care of the crippled child is also pointed out as evidence of the great strides made by the Ohio Society.

Figured from an economic standpoint, the cripples in the United States cost the country one billion dollars a year, Mr. Allen said, this being based on the estimate that each self supporting citizen is worth $10,000 to the country.

In conclusion the speaker said: "The cripple has long been recognized as a problem which until recently has been greatly misunderstood and therefore, broadly speaking, badly handled. Such a statement can be safely made even in the light of the fine, self sacrificing and intelligent efforts of a few orthopedic surgeons, teachers social workers and religious bodies. The hopeful thing is that more has been done toward the solution of the problem in the last 10 or 20 years, than in all previous history. It is now looked upon as a solvable problem. The International Society For Crippled Children invites the co-operation of all persons and agencies that have faith in the solution and that wish to contribute to its rapid development. Let us all work intelligently and systematically together to bring to the cripple everywhere then birthright of equal opportunity. Let us help them to help themselves."

At the conclusion of the luncheon Mr. Allen, accompanied by several members of the club, visited the crippled children school in the Otley avenue building.

Ritzy Rosey

We hear so much about important personages being presented with the key to the city, but it looks as though about three cities had presented Ritzy Rosey with keys. Investigation, however, discloses the fact that the keys are set with various colored stones and are very ornamental. Worn on a heavy chain, they are something new and different in jewelry creations.

Reduce the Acid
In sick stomachs—instantly
Sick stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated. Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour.
Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless, tasteless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. Since its invention, 50 years ago, it has remained the standard with physicians everywhere.
Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours.
Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug store.
"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.—Adv.

inhaling the flames. The young woman was taking a teacher training course at the college. After the body was removed by firemen it was immediately taken to a funeral home in the city from where it will be sent to Shelby, according to college authorities.

All of the other young women escaped through the windows. Some are reported to have jumped from the second story, but no serious injuries resulting from accident of this kind were reported.

Loss of the building was estimated at $12,000. It is partially covered by insurance.

Sleep Through Excitement

Authorities afterwards reported an other injury. Miss Julia Schneider, Indianapolis, is said to have suffered a broken nose.

The alarm was spread when some of the girls, awakened by smoke, crawled out on the porch roof and began screaming. Nearby neighbors turned in the alarm.

Woodlawn Hall is a secondary dormitory. The girls, made roomless by the fire, were lodged in nearby neighbor houses.

Miss Sipe, who was burned to death, was found, clad only in her night clothes, outside the door of her room on the second floor. None of her belongings in her room was touched by the flames.

A few students slept through the excitement. The first they knew of the fire was when they awakened and found the rest of the college body discussing the tragedy.

Success Reported in Tent Meetings Held at Morral

Seventeen have been converted, to date, at the tent meeting in progress at Morral under direction of Rev. Jack Donovan of Frankfort, Ind., and under auspices of the Morral Mission of which Rev. W. C. Bowman of this city, is pastor. Services are held every night at 7:45 o'clock and on Sundays at 2:30 o'clock as well. Last Sunday's services were especially well-attended, the tent being filled to capacity at both meetings.

The services will continue throughout this week and next.

48-HOUR AIR, RAIL SERVICE PLANNED

Passengers To Ride in Plane by Day, Sleep on Trains at Night

and northwest is planned as soon as the transcontinental route is established.

Date Not Set

Financing of the new company is in the hands of Hayden, Stone and Co., Blair and Co., Knight Glamble and Dysart of St. Louis, J. C. Willson of Louisville and other banking houses.

The standard scheduled time for the transportation of air mail across the United States today is 31 hours. It is upon its swift service that the new traffic service is to be built up.

No definite date has been set for the inauguration of the new transportation system.

The tentative schedule which has been worked out, however, calls for the passenger to go aboard a limited train at the Pennsylvania Station in New York City at 6 o'clock in the evening. He arrives in Columbus at about 8 o'clock the next morning. There he will be driven to the airport where he will board a multi-motored passenger air liner, built for a cruising speed of more than 100 miles an hour and equipped with restaurant service furnished by the Fred Harvey Restaurant System.

Plenty of Business

At Wichita, the passenger will leave the plane and board a westbound limited of the Atchison. He will be on the train through the night, changing once more to a plane in the morning at some point in New Mexico. At 5 o'clock in the afternoon he will land at the Los Angeles airport.

An east-to-west schedule, equally fast, has been worked out although details have not been revealed.

"There is no dearth of passenger business for air lines," said Col. Paul Henderson, president of the National Air Transport, this morning. "The passenger travel on air lines has come a great deal faster than we expected and much faster than we have been able to handle it. The business of the future is most promising."

ASCENSION DAY TO BE OBSERVED HERE

Three Churches Arrange To Hold Appropriate Services Thursday

Ascension Day, Thursday, will be observed with appropriate services in three local churches. Masses will be celebrated at St. Mary's Catholic Church at 5, 7 and 8 a. m. and benediction will be pronounced at 7:30 p. m.

Holy Communion will be celebrated at a service in the chapel of St. Paul's Episcopal Church at 9 a. m.

At Emanuel Lutheran Church, Rev. J. W. Schillinger, pastor, will preach on the subject, "The Ascended Christ Makes Us Mighty," at a service at 7:30 o'clock.

INCREASE SHOWN IN ENTRIES FOR OFFICE

Declarations of Candidacy Growing in Number at Board of Elections Quarters

With the last day for filing declarations of candidacy only a month away the number of prospective candidates for county office in the August primaries is rapidly increasing. While candidates have been filing for the last six weeks, the number has shown a decided increase within the last few days.

June 15 is the last day a candidate may file his declaration of candidacy with the Board of Elections.

Two candidates for sheriff, one for probate judge, one for county treasurer, and one for prosecuting attorney are the most recent to file.

Charles H. Conley, local attorney, is the candidate for probate judge. Conley is a Democrat.

Fred W. Huggins and Chester A. Cosgrove, both Democrats, have filed for sheriff. Kay B. Rubens, Republican, has filed for county treasurer and Alfred Donithen, Republican, has filed for prosecuting attorney.

Rubens and Donithen are the first to file for their respective offices.

TWO KILLED

Woman Seriously Injured in Railway Crossing Crash

Zanesville, May 15—Gertrude Gibson, 19, of Zanesville, was instantly killed and Mrs. Clyde Diller seriously injured when the car in which they were riding crashed into a Zanesville and Western Railroad locomotive at a crossing near Normal Park early today. Clyde Diller, driver of the car and Mrs. Lola Pennel were slightly injured.

The four were on their way to work from their homes in Zanesville to Normal Park, a suburb, when the crash occurred. Miss Gibson was thrown from the car under the wheels of the locomotive, the gray trucks passing over her face and head.

She was dead when the train crew reached her.

Scranton, Pa., and state chaplain, Judge Edward Dixon of Cincinnati, Attorney John F. Nolan of Steubenville, Rev. Thomas Nolan of Columbus, State Deputy Haas, Supreme Director T. J. Duffy of East Liverpool and Grand Knight Theodore Frericks of Marion. District Deputy Axe will act as toastmaster. Judge L. B. McNeal's Orchestra will furnish the music during the banquet.

Among the entertainers at the banquet will be Misses Corinne and Frances Lacy, Mrs. Ruth Powers, and John and Theodore Lacy. Mrs. John Lacy and Mrs. Fanny Benson will play the singers' accompaniments.

The principal sessions of the convention will be held Monday, the day opening with a solemn high mass of requiem for departed members of the Knights of Columbus at St. Mary's Church. This mass will be sung at 8 o'clock.

Convention sessions will open at 10 o'clock in the Star Auditorium. In the day's business will be included the election of state officers and the selection of a city for next year's convention.

Ball Is Closing Event

The convention will close Monday night with the state K. of C. ball at Crystal Lake Park.

Chairman Axe announced today the banquet will be open to all members of the Knights of Columbus and their ladies. The ball will also be exclusively for Knights and their families, he said.

Special entertainment for wives of the delegates will be provided. Sunday afternoon will be given to them for visits about the city, the Harding Memorial Tomb, the Harding Home and other places of interest.

A bridge tea also is being planned for Monday afternoon.

The convention here is the twenty-ninth of the state organization. Last year it was held in Columbus and through the progressiveness of a group of local members it was obtained this year for Marion.

Officers of the local council are: Theodore Frericks, grand knight; Francis Hartman, Sr., deputy grand knight; H. S. Kelleher, financial secretary; R. P. Murphy, recording secretary; Charles McDonough, chancellor; James Kirby, lecturer; Lawrence McLaughlin, warden; Michael O'Brien, treasurer; William P. Mahoney, advocate; Rev. John Hanahan, chaplain, and George Glaze, Clarence Rowe and Frank Muller, trustees.

RELIEF PLANES ARE SEPARATED ON TRIP

Army Craft Delayed by Series of Mishaps in New Brunswick

Halifax, N. S., May 15—Following a succession of mishaps, the two army amphibian planes of relief expedition going to the straits of Belle Isle, Labrador, to attempt to bring the Transatlantic monoplane Bremen back to civilization, were separated today but it was hoped they would be able to rejoin and go forward northward together.

The plane carrying Maj. Gen. James E. Fechet, commander of the expedition, and piloted by Lieut. Elwood Quesada, reached Pictou, N. S., late yesterday. The other plane carrying Fred Melchior, Junkers expert, and piloted by Capt. Ira Eaker, was forced down near Tatamagouche, N. S., when it ran short of fuel.

The planes left St. John, N. B., together yesterday morning. Both landed at the mouth of the Shubenacadie River in Cobequid Bay, near Maitland. Captain Eaker's ship soon departed without difficulty, but Lieutenant Quesada found that the wheels of his ship were mired in the river bed. It was several hours before he was able to take off.

FALSE FIRE ALARM PROBED BY OFFICERS

Local Firemen Summoned by Call Sent from Lodge Hall

Fire department officials today were investigating a false alarm from the Jr. O. U. A. M. hall at 10:15 o'clock last night reporting a fire. Firemen from the central and No. 2 stations responded to the call but found no trace of fire. A check made by firemen and police of women who were holding a meeting in the lodge hall at the time, failed to reveal the origin of the call.

The women said they had been busy with their meeting and had not noticed any one using the telephone. Whether the alarm was sent in by some one purely for entertainment or by a person who actually thought there was a fire is not known.

One hour later firemen from No. 2 and 3 stations were called to a grocery store conducted by Mrs. John Kinsey, at Silver and Commercial-sts where the room was discovered filled with smoke. No fire was found and the source of the smoke was a mystery.

MERGE FOUR DEPARTMENTS

REPORTED THREAT OF HOOVER MEN AIRED

Weekly Publication's Editor Says Owner Warned About Opposing Candidate

Washington, May 15 — A reported threat by Hoover leaders to "make things hot" for the publishers of "Politics," a weekly newspaper, if Herbert Hoover were elected president was aired today at the Senate's presidential inquiry.

Harry N. Price, editor of the weekly, said the threat was delivered to Frank J. Hale, the publisher, by two of Hoover's secretaries, after the publication had attacked Hoover's candidacy.

Price said George Akerson and Lawrence Ritchie, two of Hoover's secretaries told Hale the country would be "too hot to hold the publishers of 'Politics,' if Hoover were elected president."

"Some of the Hoover representatives called on Mr. Hale and tried to fix matters so we wouldn't oppose Hoover," said Price.

"Mr. Hale told me he had been waited on by friends of Mr. Hoover and wanted to know why we were opposing him. They said all the other papers were supporting Hoover and they wanted to know whether we couldn't get together.

"Mr. Hale wouldn't give them any satisfaction. They intimated that if we didn't stop and Hoover was elected president this country would be too hot to hold us."

"And Mr. Hale told you they said if Hoover was elected, the country would be too hot to hold you?"

"Yes, sir," said Price. "I wish you would call Mr. Hale."

CHANG TSO LIN TO EVACUATE PEKING

North China Dictator Moving Treasures to Mukden Under Heavy Guard

Moscow, May 15.—A report was received here today from Harbin, Manchuria, that Marshal Chang Tso Lin, dictator of North China government and Generalissimo of the Northern armies, is preparing to evacuate Peking.

According to this report trainloads of Chang's treasures, including gold, jewels and jade ornaments, are arriving at Mukden where they are placed under heavy military guard.

Chang is said to have ordered the conscription of all Manchurians between the ages of 20 and 35.

Marshal Chang was formerly known as the "Manchurian war lord." He maintained a powerful army in Manchuria and was said to have been on the friendliest terms with the Japanese. He moved into Peking and seized control of the government. For a time his armies were successful against the nationalists, but since the fighting began this spring in Shantung Peninsula his forces were decisively defeated in several battles.

fight there were usually harsh words and dissension, but that opposition usually evaporates after the convention. It was true of the Garfield campaign, he observed, and he believes it will be true of the approaching campaign.

Will Fight Hard

Nevertheless, the hard-hit "allies" are going to push the "Hoover-can't-win" line of attack vigorously for the next four weeks. It is their one big hope of stopping the cabinet candidate —to convince the party leaders that Hoover cannot carry the rebellious grain belt states, and that he will lose to Al Smith in the populous and wet eastern states.

The two South Dakota senators, Norbeck and McMaster, are persistently pursuing this line of attack. The Republican party, McMaster said, has always had to rely upon the "normally Republican" states of the Middle West to put it in power and keep it there, and in his opinion the support of the corn belt is all the more vital this year because of Al Smith's admitted strength in the east.

Lineup in Middle West

In substantiation of their argument of Hoover weakness in the Middle West, the South Dakotans point out that between the Ohio-Indiana line and the Rockies Hoover has been able to garner less than a score of delegates in a dozen states, despite the fact that the Hoover managers have conducted energetic campaigns in most of them.

In Indiana Hoover has no delegates, in Illinois none, in Iowa he has two, Kansas none, Minnesota six, Nebraska none, South Dakota none, North Dakota, none, Oklahoma none, Wisconsin four and Missouri six. That is a record of weakness which "the nines" believe should give the party leaders considerable pause. In any event they plan to harp on it pretty continuously right down to the point where the voting begins at Kansas City.

THREE CARRIED TO SAFETY DURING FIRE

Invalid Among Those Rescued; Others Forced To Flee for Lives

Toledo, May 15—Three persons, among them an aged invalid woman, were carried to safety and many families were forced to flee to the streets when fire early today damaged a 10-family apartment house here, to the extent of $1,500.

The three rescued were Mrs. Amy Smith, invalid, Mrs. Emma Hearns, 50, and Metha May Anderson, 5, all were saved by firemen who were assisted by "Chick" Rife, Toledo heavyweight boxer, and his brother, Ben.

Discovered shortly after midnight, the blaze had gained headway when the firemen arrived on the scene. The blaze blocked all entrances to the building and it was only after the fire was brought somewhat under control that firemen were able to rescue the three trapped people.

SHOOTS SELF

Auto Racing Driver To Be Buried in Syracuse, N. Y.

Los Angeles, May 15—The body of Dave Lewis, widely known automobile racing driver who committed suicide in his ranch home near here, will be sent to Syracuse, N. Y., for burial, it was announced here today by his wife, Mrs. Laura F. Lewis.

With a bullet in the head, Lewis' body was discovered in the ranch house when neighbors became attracted by a brush fire, racing up a nearby hillside. It is thought that Lewis grew despondent when the fire, which he had started, passed out of his control. He was planning to go to Indianapolis to participate in the forthcoming Memorial day speedway events.

Repairing BadSpots in Streets.

Making new streets out of old ones can not be accomplished by effecting repairs of bad spots here and there, but the repairing of such spots can and does make for the comfort and safety of those who travel over them, and we are glad to note that the service department has been thus engaged.

We have sometimes thought that, if city governments realized how much feeling a bad spot in a paved street can engender against them, they would be more diligent in repairing such spots. We have in mind a hollow in the paving on south State street just to the north of the Grand theater, which has recently been eliminated by the service department. We would hate to make an estimate on the criticism that one hollow has brought from motorists who have been bumped going over it. We realize that the reason why temporary repairs were made was that the ground might have opportunity to settle before the permanent repairing of the depression was undertaken. Unlike many holes in street paving caused by the breaking of the surface, which can be repaired as soon as they appear, this particular hole was occasioned by excavating to repair a line of pipe far down under the surface of the street. The hole was filled up from time to time with gravel, or crushed stone, or some such material, only to be as bad as ever a day or two later. We believe that something more durable would have been used from the first had the city government realized how much comment that one hole occasioned, and we very seriously question if anybody would have questioned the added expense. Certainly no one who ever hit the hole while motoring over the thoroughfare would have voiced criticism.

It has always seemed to us that it would work for the greatest economy in all ways were any and all holes or other bad spots in paved streets repaired as soon as they appeared. Certainly it would work to the preservation of the streets and just as certainly would it work to the preservation of the good feeling of those who used the thoroughfares.

Cost of School Lunchrooms.

Among other somewhat surprising statistics given out from the state auditor's office, Monday, were figures showing that fifteen of the ninety-three cities of Ohio expended more money for lunchrooms in 1926 than sixty-three of the ninety-three cities did for school libraries, the lunchroom expenditures in the fifteen cities being $264,035.61, of which $75,306.29 was for help, while the library expenditures of the sixty-three cities were $157,382.71, of which $82,990.78 went for help. In other words, the fifteen cities spent $118,729.32 for food and supplies and the sixty-three cities paid out $74,391.93 for books and supplies.

Columbus led the expenditures for school library purposes with $23,816.95; Cleveland was second with $21,360.04, and Bellefontaine was lowest with $8.95. Greenville, with $1.39, had the highest per capita expense per student, while Youngstown, Barberton and Struthers each had a per capita expense for library purposes of one per cent. for each student.

In the matter of expenditure for lunchrooms, Toledo was in a class by herself, her expenditures having been $96,852.35, and Springfield was lowest with $254. Dayton led the per capita lunchroom expense with $2.15 to the student and Findlay was lowest with ten cents.

Of course, the expense of maintaining and operating lunchrooms in the schools is trifling when compared with the entire cost of the maintenance and operation of the schools, and it appears large only when compared with such a minor source of expense as school libraries, but even at that to those who have attained middle life and neglected to keep in close touch with the schools, the luncheon cost in the fifteen cities of Ohio included in the figures offers ground for decided surprise, and the fact that well over one-third of it is incurred in the lunchrooms of the Toledo schools might lead some who are not acquainted with the vast school expense of the city on the Maumee to wonder why Toledo doesn't go into the lunch business and run her schools as a side line.

The school lunchroom doesn't obtain locally, and hence we have not had opportunity to familiarize ourself with its working. If it is operated on the theory that a healthy body is essential to the obtaining of the best results from educational facilities; that the vigor of pupils whose health is not up to standard may be built up in order that they may get the best results from their schooling—a policy in line with the theory that the greatest asset of a community, state or nation is a healthy, educated citizenship—then and in that event we can appreciate its place in the schools. But if it serves as a mere convenience, we confess that it might take some real salesmanship to sell the school lunchroom idea to us.

Henry Ford says he doesn't think statesmen have the prestige they used to have. Isn't it just possible, Henry, that the explanation may be that we haven't the statesmen that we used to have?

WILL VACATION NEVER COME?

Breath Free from Offense.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

There are two things which we like to dodge. Fortunately, one of these shunning is practiced in seclusion. On this account we do not run amuck of it except on a sleeping car, or in a thinly partitioned summer cottage.

But the other bad breath we can not escape. A clerk in the store, a neighbor in the street car, a fellow pupil in school, and even the doctor or the lawyer may be afflicted. Hardly a day passes but from some casual contact each of us must endure at least a passing whiff of bad breath.

Many persons are painfully conscious of their own affliction. They dread to face people and may even avoid all social indulgence, because they know they have bad breath.

There are several causes for offensive breath. All of them relate to the nose, mouth and digestive tract.

Taking these organs in the order mentioned, we find that certain types of catarrh may impregnate the breath with disagreeable odors. One disease of this sort is known as "dry catarrh." Crusts and scabs form in the nose. These become the breeding place of germs and fermentation. As the material decays it becomes very offensive.

To get rid of bad breath due to catarrh there must be appropriate treatment of the nose and of the cavities, known as the nasal sinuses, which open into the nose. Special care is needed in such cases.

Decayed teeth and pus-infected tonsils are other causes for this trouble. No sensible person will neglect disturbance of mouth or throat. It is not alone to make the breath sweet that attention should be given to such defects. It should be given to guard the general health and even the very life.

Indigestion, especially those forms of indigestion associated with habitual constipation, is one of the most common causes for bad breath. A healthy baby is as sweet as a rose and the breath of a well child is like new mown hay. Let a baby or an older child suffer from gastric fermentation or constipation and the breath becomes offensive.

The last factor I shall mention is one rarely included among the causes of this disagreeable symptom. I refer to a heavily coated and offensive tongue.

Some persons have tough tongues, with very uneven surfacing. Food debris and bacterial growth lead to decay and offensive odor. Scrape the tongue with the bowl of an inverted spoon, a piece of whalebone, or a special tongue scraper. You will be surprised at the quantity of material you remove.

Keep the teeth clean. Scrape the tongue daily. Wash out the mouth and gargle the throat with some pleasing solution. With these precautions you should have sweet breath.

The Way of the World.

BY GROVE PATTERSON.

There were some words written in this column not long ago about moderation. The word, moderation, is a philosophy, in itself. There are people of the inhuman, professional reform type who can not conceive of man as doing anything which is quite right other than playing a harp on some golden strand beyond the skies. And there are others, equally unintelligent, who conceive that man has the right to do anything just so long as he likes to do it. On one side we have extreme professional reformation and on the other we have anarchy or complete lawlessness. Both extremes, of course, are altogether bad.

If men could only be taught the value of moderation and then had the brains to practice moderation Heaven would be here.

Says Ovid, Latin poet: "Whilst you are prosperous you can number many friends, but when the storm comes you are left alone."

That seems to be the verdict of the world. But it is too sweeping a verdict. Every man who has the character to deserve it, has at least a few friends who are uninfluenced by the state of his pocketbook. There are at least a few friends whose loyalty can not be bought or sold.

Who has written more understandingly about friendship than Shakespeare. We read in Hamlet:

"Those friends thou has and their adoption tried,
Grapple them to thy soul with hoops of steel;
But do not dull thy palm with entertainment
Of each new-hatched, unfledged comrade."

It is said that through the ages so much of superstition has been attached to religion and the observances of religion. Nothing should be more natural to man than his religion—his sense of communication with a Creator. It should be always in the sunlight.

Seneca, wise old man of a past age, said: "Religion worships God while superstition profanes that worship."

A wealthy St. Louis man, dying a short time ago, remarked in his will that for forty years he had given ten per cent. of his income to charity. He felt he had discharged his obligation and he made no further provision for charitable giving. Many will say he did well in giving away ten per cent. of his income. And he deserves credit for being more generous than many others. But the fact remains that a man does not necessarily discharge his obligation to the community or to his own conscience by giving away any stated per cent. In the case of some men and women ten per cent. of income would not represent a particle of sacrifice.

Generosity and unselfishness can not be mathematically computed. Giving which represents no sacrifice whatever deserves much less praise than the giving which earns the classification of "inconvenient service."

When the Earth Is Pitcher.

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS.

"Speaking about a baseball drop from the Washington monument and what by 'Gabby' Street of the Senators, does the ball increase in speed as it nears the earth? If there was a hole bored through the earth for the ball to drop into, would it keep increasing speed to the center of the earth, and where would it stop? Were a baseball hit thus, would it travel any faster?—E. F. S., Seneca Falls, New York."

"Gabby" had conditions to face just the opposite of those on the diamond. A pitched ball loses velocity as it approaches the catcher; a ball falling under gravity on the contrary gains velocity. The Washington monument is about 550 feet high. Neglecting the effect of air resistance, which would not be very great in this case, the fall would attain a velocity of thirty-two feet per second just one second after it was dropped. From that on it would gain additional velocity at the rate of thirty-two feet per second for each second that the fall lasted.

Now, the law of falling bodies tells us that the time of fall in seconds is expressed by one-quarter of the square root of the height in feet. The square root of 550 is about 23.452, which divided by four gives 1.86 seconds for the time of fall. Multiply this by thirty-two, the gain of velocity for each second, and you see that the ball must have struck into "Gabby's" hands with a speed of nearly 188 feet per second, or 128 miles an hour. Weighing a quarter of a pound, it would have a kinetic energy of about 140 foot-pounds. How the catcher disposed of this is his secret; but the key to it lies in preventing the energy from expending itself instantaneously.

If the ball had dropped into a hole running straight through the center of the earth, and if again we neglect the effect of air resistance, and also that of the earth's rotation, it would have kept on until it reached the surface at the other end of the hole, then it would have started immediately to fall back again through the earth to Washington. After getting inside the earth its rate of increase of velocity would have begun to diminish, vanishing at the center, where, however, the actual velocity would have attained its maximum. It would have consumed about twenty-one minutes in reaching the earth's center after entering the hole, and the same time in rising to the surface somewhere in the Indian ocean west of Australia. The whole time of a round trip through the earth between Washington and the southern Indian ocean would be about an hour and twenty-five minutes.

Increasing the weight of a body does not affect its speed of fall. If the ball weighed a pound it would fall at the same velocity, but its striking energy would be four times as great, since that is proportional to the mass or weight. One of the notable achievements of Galileo was proving that Aristotle was wrong in asserting that heavy bodies fall faster than light ones in proportion to their weight. Galileo gave a graphic proof by dropping cannon balls of various weights from the celebrated leaning Tower of Pisa. They all came crashing down at the same moment regardless of their weight.

You may think that Galileo was wrong and Aristotle right because a feather drops much slower than a marble; but this is a special case owing to the fact that on so expanded and relatively light an object as a feather the air resistance becomes very pronounced. But put both the marble and the feather inside an exhausted air pump, and the feather will fall just as fast as the marble.—Copyright, 1928, International Feature Service, Inc.

New York Day by Day.

BY O. O. McINTYRE.

New York, May 15—Every columnist is besieged—meaning he receives a letter now and then—about how to write a New York column. As everybody is doing it, the formula seems simple enough, but like door knob polishing or train wheel tapping, there are certain tricks to the trade.

It is highly important, indeed almost imperative, at the outset to find an editor who will print the stuff. This is often tedious for editors are a strange people, largely influenced by whims. Many of us have grown hoary in the outer offices, waiting to catch the ogre off guard and pounce upon a fast whim.

A columnist should give the impression of receiving shoals and shoals of mail. It must give himself a patina of sophistication now and then by declaring the most popular person in town is tripe. His job is to convey the idea he is quite a fellow, always merry and a good sort and kind to his folks.

Yet at intervals it is well to pull out the Pagliacci mop of talented despair. The "Laugh Clown, Laugh" obligato will help him aside from his readers that his job is really a cinch. And anyway, when a job appears too easy the editor begins glancing about for a new job.

One of the rackets in columning is to throw an intellectual smoke screen about the work and thus hide the deficiencies. Sprinkle a few terms like sui generies, tour de force, flagrante delicto and such are dandy and make the readers suspect you might have been educated abroad.

It is also well to mention tautology, split metaphors, split infinitives and other grammatical complexities, as though you know a lot about them. Then when some glaring error leaps out from the printed page the reader will lay it to journalistic haste, and not ignorance.

When people ask the columnist how in the world he thinks up material to write an article every day, he should merely look like a sage, give a deprecatory shrug and murmur, "It is nothing." This will send them off raving about his innate modesty.

Columnists must appear charitable toward fellow-columnists. That is to say, when some other member of the tribe is mentioned immediately respond with: "He's a fine chap." That doesn't mean anything particularly, but hides your true impression he's a bum and has shot his wad.

* * *

The columnist must at all times be versatile. Now and then introduce variety by writing short sentences separated by periods such as: Mayor Walker was late as usual for the theater . . . Marilyn Miller's mash notes to her two special secretaries . . . Texas Guinan sent her grandpa played leap frog in Central park this dawn . . . Flo Ziegfeld has received the latest supply of robin's egg blue shirts from Paris . . .

* * *

Thus in a few lines he has mentioned the three absolutely essential personalities in every New York column: Mayor Walker, Texas Guinan and Flo Ziegfeld.

* * *

It is important that the columnist give the appearance of being invited everywhere. No first night performance, night club opening, prize fight or such is supposed to be complete without him. He is busy bowing to celebrities all evening. That is the saga of the columnists, and must be perpetuated. The sad down is that few columnists attend such functions and when they do they are about as inconspicuous as a walking stick on Fifth avenue. Sophie Tucker, for instance, will create more of a stir at first night than all the columnists in town walking two abreast down the center aisle.

* * *

The idea that columning requires special gifts is one of the magnificent myths of the trade. Most of us took it up like people take up soliciting life insurance—after everything else we tried was a flop.

* * *

And so that, children, not only explains how to write a column, but how I happened to marry your aunt—the duchess. — Copyright, 1928, by the McNaught Syndicate, Inc.

Editorial Opinion.

SPENDING A NICKEL TO SAVE A QUARTER.

Did anybody seriously propose that the gasoline tax be raised to ten cents a gallon in all the states to hasten the improvement of every road which carries any considerable traffic, that person would probably be hooted out of court, either as a wild visionary, or else as a venal hireling of the "power trust."

And yet some calculations based on recent driving cost studies made at Iowa State college, Washington State college and North Carolina State college indicate that a ten-cent tax, wisely spent, would save itself three times over in reduced automobile operating expenses, once the highways were all made adequate to carry the loads they are called upon to carry.

These driving cost studies show that, in fuel, oil and tires, it costs $55.10 to drive a given car 1,000 miles over rough roads, and only $12.80 to drive the same car the same distance over smooth improved roads.

The extra cost exacted by the rough road amounts to more than two cents a mile. If we take this figure as the average and assume that it will deliver three more miles to the gallon of gas on a smooth road, then the saving of two cents a miles becomes thirty cents for each gallon of gas burned.

About one-fifth of the highways of America have been improved to some extent in recent years, but there are still 2,000,000 miles of roads that are inadequate for the economical handling of the traffic. Their immediate improvement would necessitate something like a five-fold increase in highway outlay over the next few years.

That the driving public will soon authorize anything like a five-fold increase in highway outlay is highly improbable. But there will come a time, perhaps a decade hence, when the driving public, whenever it finds highway conditions require a multiplication of expenditure, will even demand that its gasoline tax rate be hoisted.

In Florida, Kentucky, South Carolina and New Mexico, where they are wisely concentrating on road improvement instead of stringing the gasoline tax a long period, there is no important protest on the part of drivers against the five-cent gasoline tax required to finance the work. Spending a nickel to save a quarter is good economy there. Hastening completion of Minnesota's needed paving with 1937 bond issues funded through a doubling of the present gasoline tax, would be good economy here.—Minneapolis Journal.

Annual District Meeting of U. B. Women's Society Opens Today

Galion, May 15—The fifty-second annual convention of the Sandusky district of the United Brethren Women's Missionary Society opened at the United Brethren Church here this morning at 10 o'clock. Registration of delegates and a special meeting of the executive board were the chief features of the morning.

Mrs. E. M. Hursh, Westerville, led the devotionals, which opened the first session this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Following the worship hour reports of officers and committee chairmen were made and a representative of each society of the district gave an account of the work accomplished.

Miss Alice E. Beel of Dayton had charge of the "Association Hour" and Mrs. Rose Showers, D. D., of Dayton gave an interesting talk, "Our Interests in New Mexico."

Rev. T. F. Dougherty, D. D., of Dayton, gave the principal address of the session, using as his subject, "That I May Know Him."

Election of officers will take place at the evening session Wednesday and the annual Otterbein Guild is scheduled for Wednesday night. Many interesting sessions, addresses and special features are listed and the convention will conclude with a final prayer service Thursday morning.

Members of the local church Missionary Society are hostesses and guests are being entertained in the homes of congregation members.

DINNER MEETING OF "Y" DIRECTORS

Old and New Members of Board Hold Banquet at Bucyrus

Bucyrus, May 15—Present directors of the local Y. M. C. A., together with men of a quarter of a century ago, enjoyed a banquet at the Y last night. Mr. J. J. Bliss, first president of the Y when it was organized in 1903, spoke at the meeting of the board of directors. Mr. Gordon, present secretary of the Y, and General Volbrath spoke.

Following the dinner the diners entered the gymnasium auditorium where they heard an address from Karl Schneider, state secretary of the Y association. The cadets entertained with a few exercises on the gymnasium.

WYOMING FOR AL

Woman Will Be Chosen As Vice President of Delegates

Casper, Wyo., May 15—The six Wyoming delegates to the Democratic national convention were instructed here today to cast their votes for Gov. Al Smith of New York for presidential nomination and for Nellie Taylor Ross, first woman governor of Wyoming, for nomination as vice president of the United States.

The state Republican convention held at Thermopolis voted to send uninstructed delegates to the national convention. Formal announcement of the selection of delegates will be made later today.

WILL REPAIR BREAK IN SEWER SYSTEM

Council Orders Elimination of Cross Connection on Uncapher-av

Steps to repair a broken sanitary sewer on Uncapher-av, which, according to Carl H. Tozzer, city building inspector, is pouring the sanitary sewage from 400 houses in Oakland Heights into the storm water sewer and into the Columbia-st ditch, was taken by City Council at its meeting last night, when the service director was instructed to repair the break, the cost to be borne by the contingent account of the general fund.

The break in the tile, which, according to the inspector, was made a number of years ago as the easiest way to get around a badly stopped up sanitary sewer tile, was discovered by Tozzer while making a survey to determine the cause of the pollution of the Columbia-st ditch. The cost of making the repair is estimated at $200.

HALYBURTON GIVEN PARDON BY DONAHEY

World War Hero's Freedom Follows Dry Commissioner's Action

Columbus, May 15—Complying with the recommendation of B. F. McDonald, state prohibition commissioner, Gov. Vic Donahey, it was announced today, has granted a full pardon to Edgar M. Halyburton, World War hero, from the Starke County Workhouse at Canton, O.

Halyburton was convicted in the Huron County Probate Court on Oct. 7, last, of violating the state prohibition laws. The same day, he was imprisoned in the Canton Workhouse for failure to pay his fine of $500.

An order of the Starke County court for Burton's release was overruled by the Ohio State Supreme Court.

Executive clemency for Halyburton was also recommended by Prosecuting Attorney Henry W. Harter, Jr., of Starke County.

DANIEL A. CROSS, 71, DIES AT MARYSVILLE

Union County Educator To Be Buried Wednesday Afternoon

Marysville, May 15—Daniel A. Cross, 71, of Marysville, former teacher and educator, died at his home Sunday night, following an illness of diabetes and complications. Mr. Cross retired seven years ago after 36 years' service as a teacher in the schools of Union and surrounding counties.

He was born in Licking County, but had been a resident of Marysville for the past 11 years. He was a member of the local Methodist Church and the F. & A. M. Lodge of Mechanicsburg.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Sarah A. Cross and the following sons and daughters: Lisle, Lowell and Howell Cross, of Union County; Mrs. Flossie Bonham, Mrs. Daniel Anderson and Miss Julia Cross, of Cleveland, and Miss Gertrude Cross, of Marysville. Three brothers also survive.

The funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at the L. H. Miller chapel, conducted by Rev. C. C. Kennedy of the Methodist Church. Interment will be made in Oakdale Cemetery.

FACE TWO MURDERS

One Man Shot Down in Alley, Woman Hacked to Death

Chicago, May 15—Authorities were working today to solve two murders committed here last night.

Joseph Cavaretta, 28, formerly of Utica, N. Y., was shot down in an alley by an unknown assassin. One of two men who had been following him earlier in the evening is believed to have done the shooting.

The other murder victim was Mrs. LaRue Wergen Leonardi, 26, who was hacked to death with an axe in the basement room of her sweetheart, Morris Zimm. The latter called up relatives of Mrs. Leonardi and told them he had killed her. He then disappeared.

TWO DROWN WHEN BOAT TURNS OVER ON POTOMAC

Washington, May 15—The "rocking the boat" casualty list for 1928 has started.

Two brothers, Charles Bromley, 18, and Frank Bromley, 25 were dead today following a boating excursion on the Potomac with four companions. While returning from an up-river jaunt, the sextette began rocking the boat a few hundred yards off-shore. The boat capsized and the brothers were drowned. Their four companions swam ashore.

BUS FRANCHISE VOTE IS AGAIN POSTPONED

Action on Ordinance Is Blocked by Stand of Three Councilmen

after the Wednesday night meeting.

Councilman Prettyman objected on the grounds that since the city had received a definite statement from the C., D. & M. that it would be impossible to continue street car service after the expiration of the franchise in October and since it would be only fair to the Maag Bros. Co. to give ample time in which to secure its bus equipment, the ordinance granting the franchise should be passed.

Opposes Delay

"The franchise ordinance submitted by the Maag Brothers Co. has been approved by the ordinance committee and recommended to council for adoption," Mr. Prettyman said. "Council has authorized the city solicitor to prepare the legislation and I can see no reason for delaying the adoption."

"We have arranged a meeting with C., D. & M. officials for Wednesday night and I believe we should wait until after that meeting before taking any action," Councilman Wilkins declared. Other councilmen expressed the same view and a vote showed Wilkins, Schneider and Williams against the suspension of the rules and Mead, Hubbleman, Hiller, Starr, Good and Prettyman for the suspension and adoption.

Wilkins, whose opposition against the adoption of the ordinance at the meeting three weeks ago resulted in its being tabled until the meeting last night, announced the session of councilmen and C., D. & M. officials for Wednesday night.

AMBULANCE IN CRASH

Boyd Car and Doughty Automobile in Collision

The W. C. Boyd & Co. ambulance and an automobile driven by W. W. Doughty, Mt. Vernon-av collided at Church and S. Prospect-sts slowly after noon today as the ambulance was enroute to City Hospital with Theodore Sandier, who was injured at the site of the new Palace Theater, W. Center-st. The fender of the ambulance and the running board and radius rod on the Doughty car were damaged.

Burial took place at the Iberia cemetery.

FACE FIGHT

Limited Tenure of Office For Bishops Before Methodists

Kansas City, May 15 — Limited tenure of office for bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church today faced a bitter fight on the floor of the general conference.

The proposal that bishops in the future be elected for eight year terms instead of for life is one of the big issues before the conference. This principle, submitted to the committee on Episcopacy in a minority report, was voted down yesterday by a vote of 216 to 132.

SELLS REAL ESTATE

Xenia, May 15—Andrew Jackson, 88, Republican Representative from Greene County in the sixty-eighth and sixty-ninth general assemblies and for 22 years following, sergeant-at-arms of the House of Representatives, died at his home in Cedarville today.

Jackson, known throughout this district of Ohio as a trainer of fine horses, was for 46 years clerk of the Cedarville board of education. His grandfather, Robert Jackson, was a first cousin of Andrew Jackson, seventh president of the United States.

COUNTY JAIL CATCHES FIRE

Bucyrus Firemen Respond to Three Calls Monday; Damages Small

Bucyrus, May 15—The Bucyrus Fire Department made three calls yesterday and averted what might have resulted in serious damages. One call was made to Southern-av to the home of G. Sonney. Clothes had been left on to boil in the morning in the basement on a hotplate, and forgotten caused the blaze. Damages amounted to about $25.

The potato bin in the basement of the county jail caught fire. The room contained a number of burned sacks there and it is not known just how the fire started. The third fire was at the city dumping grounds when some rubbish started to blaze.

HOLD RITES FOR ALBERT LAY, 52

Marysville Man Dies in Hotel Enroute To Visit Father in Michigan

Marysville, May 15—Funeral services were held this afternoon in the L. H. Miller funeral home for Albert Lay, 52, well known resident of Marysville. The services were conducted by Rev. C. C. Kennedy, pastor of the Methodist Church and interment was made in Oakdale cemetery.

Mr. Lay was found dead in his room in a hotel in Mucie, Mich., Sunday morning, by a hotel clerk. Death is thought to have been caused by a cerebral hemorrhage. Mr. Lay had been in failing health for the past year, having suffered a nervous breakdown.

At the time of his illness Mr. Lay was superintendent of the Regent Brass Manufacturing Co. of this city. Because of his health he was forced to resign his position as superintendent of the local plant, and moved with his family to Cleveland, where he secured work better suited to the condition of his health. He moved back to Marysville two months ago and accepted a position with the Bellefontaine Brass Manufacturing Co., a branch of the local plant. His condition again became serious about three weeks ago.

Mr. Lay was a native of Oak Harbor, O., being a son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Lay. His mother passed away when he was a young boy, but his father is living. He was married to Miss Inez Conklin about 30 years ago. They were the parents of four children, of whom the following survive: Mrs. Ruth Terell, of Marysville; Miss Corinne Lay, of California; Miss Hazel Belle Lay, of Delaware. One son is deceased. A brother, George Lay, resides at Toledo and a half brother, Harry Lay, is living in Eaton Falls, Mich.

Mr. Lay left his home here Friday afternoon to visit his father, who resides at Eaton Falls, Mich.

WOMAN IS DRAGGED BY RUNAWAY PONY

Mrs. George Christman in Galion Hospital Following Accident

Galion, May 15—Mrs. George Christman is reported as slightly improved today following a fall yesterday at her home, N. Union-st. Mrs. Christman was leading a Shetland pony into the barn at her home when the animal became frightened and attempted to break away.

The rope became entangled and Mrs. Christman was dragged for some distance before she could bring the pony to a stop and free herself. An ambulance was summoned and took her to Good Samaritan Hospital, where it was found that her left shoulder was broken and that she was badly bruised and cut about the face and arms.

MEN ARRESTED HERE HELD TO GRAND JURY

Two Taken in Custody by Marion County Sheriff Get Hearing at Kenton

Kenton, May 15—Charged with breaking into a chicken coop on the John W. Scott farm, west of here, and stealing 21 chickens, Harry Adams and Troy Shepherd, alias William Bair, both of the Scioto marsh district, were bound over to the Hardin County grand jury, under $200 bond each when arraigned before Mayor W. J. Ocin late Monday afternoon.

Both young men were arrested by the Marion County sheriff when, it is said, they attempted to dispose of the chickens to a Marion dealer. Becoming suspicious, the Marion dealer delayed completion of the deal and notified officials.

They were brought back to Kenton to face charges by Sheriff John W. Crooks and Deputy F. W. Hauden schield. The latter swore out the affidavit. Efforts were being made today by the two to raise bail money.

DISCUSS OPERA

Galion Delphian Members Meet at Home of Mrs. W. A. Lash

Galion, May 15—The Galion Delphian chapter members met at the home of Mrs. W. A. Lash, Boston-st, last night and continued their interesting study of grand opera. Mrs. William Geer read a paper, "The Beginnings of Opera," and Mrs. Minnie Baily had as her topic, "Early Italian Opera." Mrs. Early Padgett discussed the operas of Bonini and Miss Doris John gave a sketch of Verdi's life.

The opera, "Aida," was reviewed by Mrs. Donald Pounder, "Cavalleria Rusticana" by Mrs. Roger Godfrey and "Madame Butterfly" by Mrs. Mary Dresser. Mrs. Georgia White's talk was on the subject, "Pastel."

Numbers from the various operas discussed were given with a solo, "Ave Maria" from Cavalleria Rusticana, sung by Mrs. Donald Townsend and accompanied by Mrs. R. O. Morgan, in a lecture.

STARVING TO DEATH

Many Persons Get No Nourishment From Food

Thousands of people who are pale, thin, weak and run down are literally starving to death because their system in its weakened condition is unable to take up the nourishment which the food they eat contains. To such people father Johns Medicine is of great value because it has vast body value and the pure wholesome nourishment which it contains is easily taken up by the weakened system and turned into tissue, muscle and flesh.

Fire Protection

There are two ways in which you can protect yourself against loss as a result of fire. Reduce to a minimum the possibilities of fire on your property and carry adequate fire insurance against loss if a fire occurs. The rest is up to the Fire Department.

We can give you practical advice on Fire Prevention principles and methods—and insurance policies of known dependability.

Meditations of a Married Woman

BY HELEN ROWLAND

Man's Sweet Credulity

ONE reason why men are happier than women is because a man is the most credulous and optimistic creature on earth when it comes to believing anything he WANTS to believe.

You may convince a man against his better judgment, his intuition, his principles and all his common sense—but you can never convince him against his will and his inclinations.

You may convince him that you can't be kissed—but you can never convince him that you don't really WANT to be kissed.

You may convince him that you know that all his lovemaking is just a good line of "apple sauce"—but never that you don't enjoy listening to it.

• • •

You may convince him that a woman's intuition is uncanny and infallible—but never that he can't succeed in fooling her.

• • •

You may convince him that your prophecies were right—but never that he was mistaken in his judgment.

• • •

You may convince him that you adore him madly and admire him extravagantly—but never that you just like him casually and admire him only mildly.

• • •

You may convince him that you consider petting vulgar, cheap and pernicious—but never that any woman couldn't be petted, if a man went about it sentimentally.

• • •

You may convince him that he's going too fast a pace, smoking too much, drinking too much, and burning the candle at both ends—but never that it's going to find him in the hospital, the poorhouse or the divorce court.

• • •

You may convince that you understand him—but never that you see THROUGH him or that you are ONTO him.

• • •

You may convince him that you are sweet, and sincere, and even angelic—but never that you are reasonable, and frank, and logical.

• • •

You may convince him that he isn't an Adonis or a Rudolph Valentino—but you can never convince him that there isn't SOMETHING about him devilishly taking with the women."

• • •

You may convince him that a girl half his age is too young for him—but never that she couldn't "learn to love him."

• • •

You may convince him that you love him—but, once that idea has taken root, you can never convince him that you have gotten OVER loving him, no matter what he may have done to cure you!

• • •

In short, next to trying to convince a mule, a second-hand flivver or a "fixed" jury the hardest feat on earth is that of convincing a man when he doesn't want to be convinced!

WINS PICTURE

Olney Avenue Building Receives Award in City School Competition

Olney Avenue School was this morning awarded the picture, "Family Cares," offered by Superintendent H. Mason for the school having the largest number of patrons at the Marion Public Schools' art exhibit Friday and Saturday at Central Junior High School. Attendance of patrons was proportioned according to the number of art students and enrollment at each school.

Olney had a score of 16.5 points while Central Junior was second with a 13.5 point score. Presentation of the picture was made by Miss Edith Keeler, art supervisor in the city schools, who arranged the exhibit.

The display, the third annual art exhibit of the schools, included the year's work of first to sixth grade students, inclusive. A marionette show given by Central Junior Girls was a feature of the display.

MEN ARE HOSTS

Corns
Lift Right Off

Hard corns, soft corns, corns between the toes and callouses lift right off. You'll laugh—it is so easy and doesn't hurt a bit!

Just drop "Freezone" on any tender, aching corn. Instantly it stops pain, then shortly you just lift that bothersome corn right off with the fingers. It works like a charm, every time. Seems magic!

A tiny bottle of "Freezone" costs only a few cents at any drug store. Try it! —Adv.
